

TWENTY-ONE DEAD RESULT OF WRECK

All but One of Victims Identified by Relatives in Improvised Morgue

PREPARE TO INVESTIGATE WRECK

Cause of Disaster When Engine Plowed Through Wooden Cars to Be Uncovered

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 3.—A mass of smoldering ruins of what were once two wooden Pullman cars, a few fragments of cushions and other parts of railroad cars scattered over nearby fields and a curious crowd that peered about in the ashes for some relic of the disaster that claimed twenty-one lives near North Haven, marked the scene early today of the crash between the two express trains on the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad near North Haven.

The aftermath of the wreck is reflected in other places—in the homes of more than forty persons who were maimed or bruised when a gigantic

Road's Stock Breaks
NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—New Haven stock again broke on the stock exchange today. Opening at 90 3/4, 1/4 below yesterday's close, dropped to 90 and then to 89 1/4. It was estimated that the decline of the stock within the past twenty-four hours represented a loss of $4,000,000 to stockholders.

engine plowed through the antiquated filmy cars and in the improvised morgue here where the bodies of the dead were being claimed by relatives.

Identify Marvins Identification was made early today of the body of Dr. J. B. Marvin, one of the best known physicians in Louisville, Ky. Beside his body lay those of his wife and daughter, Martha H. Marvin. Jewelry valued at more than $75,000 was found on Miss Marvin's body. J. B. Marvin, a son of the dead physician, arrived here this morning and removed all doubt as to the identity of the bodies.

In the death of Miss Maria Logan
Bullitt, Miss Emily Davis, Daniel J.
McQuillan and Miss Harriet Biddle, Philadelphia mourns the loss of its well known society leaders.

All but one body has now been identified. It is that of a woman who gave her name as "Mary Jane" before she died. She is supposed to be from Hartford, Conn.

At 11 o'clock today Coroner Mix gave out a revised list of dead, showing twenty identified and one unidentified body. The list follows:

Weather

Temperature ranges yesterday:
High, 95.
Low, 68.

Precipitation, .40.
Forecast for La Crosse and vicinity: Probably showers tonight or Thursday; not much change in temperature.

Wisconsin: Unsettled weather
with showers tonight or Thursday;
moderate easterly winds.

Minnesota: Unsettled weather, with showers tonight or Thursday; warmer northwest portion; moderate to brisk easterly winds.

Weather Conditions

The high pressure area has moved from the plains states to the upper lake region and the northwestern
low is now central north of Montana.
These pressure movements has caused somewhat lower temperature from Minnesota to the upper lakes and slightly higher temperature in the northern Rocky mountain districts and the Dakotas. The temperature continues high from the central Mississippi valley to the lower lakes and north Atlantic states. September records were broken yesterday at Milwaukee and Toledo with a temperature of 96 degrees.

Local showers have occurred during the past 24 hours in nearly all sections from the north Pacific states to the Mississippi valley and upper lake region and it is raining at widely scattered stations this morning.
The heaviest rainfall occurred in the Mississippi valley between La Crosse and St. Paul; Reeds Landing reports a fall of .80 inch and Red Wing 1.12 inches.

The northwestern low will cause
continued unsettled weather in this section tonight and Thursday with showers. The temperature change will be small.

River	Flood	24-Hr. Stage Height Change
St. Paul	14	1.6
La Crosse	12	2.6

The river will remain stationary or rise slightly during the next 48 hours.

GOVERNORS LEAD WORK ON ROADS

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 3.—Fully 75,000 men turned out today to work on Arkansas roads, according to estimates received from all over the state, following designation of September 3 and 4 as good roads days by Gov. George W. Hays. In many cities business was entirely suspended. At Paragould for instance, a city of 7,000, every business house closed and everybody from chore boy to banker worked on the highways. In Little Rock a grand parade formed on Main street in front of the chamber of commerce building, headed by Gov. Hays and Gov. Major of Missouri, attired in most approved road working rig. The parade moved out to suburban pikes, where real work commenced. Business men who could not leave their offices sent substitutes at $2 per day.

ARREST FIVE FOR $650,000 ROBBERY

Big Theft of Pearls in the Mails Between Paris and London Nears Solution

MEMBERS OF BIG THIEVES' GANG

Men Held Alleged to Be Connected with Notorious European Crime Syndicate

LONDON, Sept. 3.—Five men accused of stealing the famous $650,- 000 case of pearls that Max Meyer, a Paris jeweler, complained was taken on the way from Paris, were remanded to jail for one week, without bail, when arraigned today in Bow street police court. This was to enable Scotland Yard detectives to work up their case against the men and possibly to round up confederates.

It was said that the detectives of Scotland Yard are in possession of several of the detached parts and of evidence showing the five prisoners are members of a notorious gang of jewel thieves with connections in every city of Europe. It was expected that the men would be remanded for trial, giving the police time to perfect their case. Detectives were on the trail of the men days before they were arrested and they were taken into custody simultaneously, three in a tube station and two in Hendon Garden, which is the center of London diamond trading, corresponding to New York's Maiden Lane.

Max Meyer, a Paris jeweler, assembled the pearls for the costly necklace, supposedly for a rich American. That part of the story has not been cleared up, but for some reason the necklace was to be sent to London, sealed and registered. On the way it disappeared and the police of London and the continent have been working on the mystery.

40 DIE IN TENEMENT

DUBLIN, Sept. 3.—Rescuers continued to work frantically today in the ruins of the two Church street tenements that collapsed last night.
The death list, it is believed, will total forty. Thirteen families occupied the houses, which fell in without burning, after many of the people had gone to bed. On the first count of noses, 53 persons were missing.

HUSBAND IS HELD

CAIRO, Ill., Sept. 3.—Harvey R.
Fields is today held on order of the coroner's jury, charged with the murder of Dr. E. E. Gordon, whom he shot and killed following the confession of Mrs. Fields that Gordon wronged her. Dr. G. H. McNemer, Dr.
Gordon's business partner, denies Mrs. Fields' story of her visit to the doctor's office.

HEAT KILLS 16 BABIES

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Sept. 3.—Indications this morning were that the mercury today would climb to as great a height as it did yesterday which went on record as one of the hottest days of the season, the thermometer touching 100. Sixteen babies perished.

JOHN SEKASKI BURIED

The funeral services for John Sekaski, age 67, were held this morning at 8:30 from his residence, 1517
South Sixteenth street, and at 9 o'clock from the Holy Cross Catholic church. Interment was made in the Catholic cemetery.

BURY MRS. PARMENTER

The funeral services for Mrs. E.
G. Parmenter, who died at her home at 2002 Berlin street, Sunday, were held from the Caledonia Street M.
E. church at 2:30 this afternoon.
Burial was made in Oak Grove cemtery.

PLAN DEEP PROBE OF FATAL WRECK

Interstate Commerce Commission Will Carefully Investigate Use of Wooden Cars

PUSH PASSAGE OF STEEL CAR LAW

Congressman Talcott Will Urge Bill Prohibiting
Any but All-metal Equipment

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—"The wooden car peril" is to be probed by the interstate commerce commission.
The terrible sacrifice of human life yesterday in the latest New Haven wreck spurred the interstate commerce commission today to set in motion its inquisitorial powers. The commission has long condemned the antique wooden car as a menace to the safety of the traveling public. With legislators stirred by the most recent catastrophe directly traceable to the use of such equipment and the conviction that congress would shortly enact laws prohibiting its further use, the commission proposes to gather all available information.

That the commission will demand fullest publicity of all the investigations of the Wallingford wreck was indicated today when Commissioner McChord sent the following message to Chief Safety Appliance Inspector Belknap: "Have men at all meetings of coroner or railroads regarding wreck to get what is said and done.
Our reports indicate secret investigations being held."

Gets Pullman Report

Interstate Commerce Commissioner McChord began the probe by writing the general superintendent of the Pullman company, requesting a detailed statement on the number of cars that company now has in service, wood and steel, how many of each kind are in process of construction, and over which roads the wooden cars are now run.

"Another point we will endeavor to ascertain," said McChord, "is why the Pullman company is unloading its wooden sleeping cars upon the lines of the New York, New Haven & Hartford company. Other railroads have been enabled to discard the dangerous wooden Pullman equipment. Why hasn't the New Haven road?"

In the office of Safety Appliance Inspector Belknap, today, statistics on the number of fatal railroad accidents where wooden cars were used was lacking, but a report on the Tyrone, Pa., wreck recently on the Pennsylvania was shown in comparison with yesterday's disaster on the New Haven at Wallingford. The accidents were parallel in almost every respect. The Pennsylvania trains were thoroughly steel equipped. Not a passenger was killed. The New Haven equipment in yesterday's accident was of wood. Twenty-one lives were sacrificed.

To Push Steel Car Bill

Aroused to action by the Wallingford wreck disaster, Representative Talcott of New York announced today that he would immediately ask the house to pass, as an urgent emergency measure, his bill to force railroads to use nothing but steel cars for passenger traffic.

Talcott stated today that he believed there would be little opposition to a favorable report on the bill in the interstate commerce committee, except from the railroads.

"Former Senator Faulkner of West Virginia, attorney for a dozen railroads, bitterly opposed my bill at the hearings last February. He said it might force some small roads into bankruptcy," said Talcott.

That hearings on his bill were practically completed last winter was asserted by Talcott. He said only the formal action of the committee was necessary to put the legislative machinery in motion.

"Nauseating," says Reed

"The time has come in this country," said Senator Reed of Missouri, today, "when men responsible for horrible things of this kind, will be held criminally responsible. Here is a great corporation, owning all the railroads and most of the steamship lines of New England, allowing sacrifices of the lives of its passengers time after time, just to save the cost of a few steel cars. It is nauseating."

AUTO KILLS TWO

OTTUMWA, Ia., Sept. 3.—Two men were killed and a woman fatally injured when two automobiles raced for the lead down a country road near here late yesterday.

MORE YOUNG MEN AT THE NORMAL

The La Crosse normal opened today to a splendid increase in attendance. The enrollment showed 360, an increase of 50
over last year's attendance.
There was also a change in the ratio between the sexes, 112
young men having matriculated
as compared with 90 last year.
An increased attendance of high school graduates was noted with pleasure by the faculty.
The training school starts with 200 pupils.

MAKES PICTURE OF HUMAN ASHES

DENVER, Sept. 3.—A picture made from human ashes was the curious handiwork of Myron Root exhibited here today. Root has just completed the picture, which he calls "The Awakening," portraying a young woman waking from the death sleep.
He made several pictures from cigar ashes before trying one from the ashes of a young woman recently cremated.

He says he works the ash pictures on a base of plastic cement. He suggests that persons having relatives dead should have their ashes made into portraits instead of putting them in a grave or vault.

THAW LOSES FIGHT TO STAY IN JAIL

Justice Orders Release on Writ of Habeas Corpus This Afternoon

STARTED AT ONCE FOR BORDER

Immigration Officials Put Fugitive in Auto and Start for Coati-
cooke

SHERBROOKE, Que., Sept. 3.— Justice Hutchinson this afternoon ordered the release of Harry K. Thaw from the Sherbrooke jail upon the writ of habeas corpus issued on behalf of Chief of Police Boudreau, who arrested the prisoner following his escape from Matteawan. An automobile was waiting outside the court and as soon as the ruling was announced three immigration officials took charge of Thaw. He was hurried into the automobile and under full speed the party set out for Coati-
cooke.

The sudden turn of affairs which set in yesterday when it became known that the attorney general would not permit the Sherbrooke officials to hold Thaw on a faulty commitment longer was brought to a climax by the decision today. Thaw's attorneys did not have an opportunity to take further legal action to prevent the removal of their client to Coaticook, and the New York state authorities, headed by William Travers Jerome, expressed themselves as being confident of having Thaw back in Matteawan within another day.

The fight of the Thaw attorneys to prevent the removal of their client across the line from where he may be rushed into New York state and back to Matteawan must now be made before the immigration authorities. Attorneys for New York will make an immediate attempt to get an order for his deportation.
Then they plan to rush him across the border in an automobile, hurry toward the New York state line before his attorneys can take further legal action, and once in the state, he will be returned to Matteawan without delay.

In ordering Thaw's release, Justice Hutchinson declared that it was evident that it was to the prisoner's interest to be liberated. He said that as in a case where there was any reasonable doubt he was obliged to give the prisoner the benefit, he could not do otherwise than order Thaw's release.

Contrary to expectations "Educated Roger" Thompson, the chauffeur who drove the car in which Harry K. Thaw escaped from Matteawan, was on hand here today for trial on the charge of bringing a lunatic into the dominion. His case was continued until next Wednesday. The people of Sherbrooke have lost interest in Thompson and paid little attention to the arrangements for his trial.

DUNNE RECOGNIZES GLYNN

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 3.— Governor Dunne's first official act on returning to the state today was to honor the requisition requested by Acting Governor Glynn of New York.
It is for the return of Eugene Grant, wanted in New York for theft. The governor acted on the advice of the attorney general, Lieut. Governor O' Hara, while acting governor refused to honor the requisition, calling Mr.
Glynn an usurper.

RESTRAIN TAXES

JACKSON, Miss., Sept. 3.—Judge
Henry C. Miles of the federal court, has granted a temporary injunction restraining the Mississippi road commission from enforcing its assessment of the Illinois Central and Yazoo & Mississippi Valley roads for ad valorem taxes for the current year.

SENATE PROBE ADJOURNS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—The senate lobby investigating committee today finished its probe of the alleged lobby activities of the National Manufacturers' association, and took an indefinite adjournment.
Further sessions of the committee will not be held until the tariff bill is disposed of by the senate.

NAB ROBBER SOON AFTER BURGLARY

Man Who Robbed Adam Kroner Hardware Company Landed at "Q" Depot by Officer Wermuth

PARTNER MAKES HIS GET-AWAY

Runs as Partner Is Apprehended and No Trace of Him Is Found; Loot
Valued at $125

Within three hours after a burglary at the Adam Kroner Hardware company, 319-321 Pearl street,
had been discovered one of the robbers, who gives the name of "Frank Smith," St. Paul, Minn., was in the custody of the police. His partner, whose name or address the captured thief refuses to divulge, escaped.

The game worked by the burglars was clever but old. One of the men, it is asserted, remained in the store at closing time and later opened the rear door to admit his fellow burglar. Loot valued at $125 was loaded into a wicker suitcase and taken out.

The robbery was discovered at 12:50 o'clock this morning by Martin Haley, a night watchman, when he found the rear door of the hardware company open. He immediately notified the police who, after a short investigation at the store, started on the trail of the robbers.

Caught by Wermuth and Main Patrolmen Wermuth and Main were deputized to watch the depots and were there soon before passenger train No. 47, due at 3:30 and bound for St. Paul, pulled in. They noticed a pair of men, one carrying a heavy suitcase.

"What have you in the suit case?"
asked Wermuth of one of the men.
"Oh, only old clothes," was the reply.

Wermuth reached over to lift the case and at the same time grabbed the man by the shoulder.

Without a word and before Patrolman Main had a chance to interfere the other dashed from the depot platform and disappeared in the darkness. Pursuit by Main was useless the man having made a clean getaway.

Assortment of Loot

The other man was taken to the station where a search of the suit case revealed an assortment of guns and small hardware articles.

Among the loot were ten revolvers,
two automatic pistols, 30 razors, 16
safety razors, 24 knives, horse clippers, revolver holsters and other hardware articles.

Smith is being held by the police but up to date efforts to get him to "cough" have proven futile.

It is believed that the gang were members of one of the pairs of crooks that are harbored in St. Paul, this being evidenced by their attempt to board a train for that city.

Burglary in the night time will probably be the charge preferred against "Smith."

BARRON FUNERAL THURSDAY

The funeral services for Mrs. H.
E. Barron, who died at her home, 1313 Charles street, yesterday morning, will be held Thursday afternoon from the Caledonia Street M. E. church at 2:30. Rev. M. E. Frazer pastor of the church, will officiate.
Interment will take place at Oak Grove cemetery.

MISS ROSENWALD ENGAGED

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—The engagement of Miss Edith Rosenwald, daughter of Julius Rosenwald, multimillionaire head of Sears, Roebuck & Co., and philanthropist, to Germon
F. Sulzberger, millionaire meat packer and vice president and general manager of the firm of Schwarzschild & Sulzberger, was announced today.

MARRY AT WINONA

Miss Minnie Williams, 203 Cass street, and William J. Snyder, 415 North Twelfth street, a junior at the University of Wisconsin, were married yesterday at Winona. The couple will reside in Cedar Rapids until next year when Mr. Snyder will resume his studies at the university.

PASS HETCH-HETCHY BILL

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—By a vote of 183 to 43 the house early this afternoon passed the Hetch-Hetchy bill.

TAFT HEADS BAR

.....
MONTREAL, Sept. 3.—William Howard Taft, former president of the United States, was today elected president of the American Bar association.
"Struggle for simplification of legal procedure—some causes" was the topic discussed today by several speakers before the meeting of the association.
The speakers included William
C. Hook, judge of the United States circuit court of appeals; Judge Charles H. Burke of the court of appeals of Maryland, and William A. Blount of Pensacola, Fla.

"SEPTEMBER MORN" IN COURT AGAIN

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—Miss
"September Morn," still blushing and still unadorned, went on trial again today, taking her place among a crowd of "dis-orderlies" and drunks at the South Clark street police court.
Fred J. Jackson and William F. Keuhl, members of a firm of art dealers that displayed the nude girl in their window in defiance of the new "pure nude"
ordinance, were haled into court and announced that they would test the purity of September Morn in the higher courts if necessary.

Mayor Harrison, who backed the ordinance banishing the Cha-bas painting from store windows, admitted today that he was "through."

"Chicago has ben the laughing stock of the whole country because of this bathing girl picture. It was a gigantic advertising scheme from the start."

LAWYERS QUESTION MAYOR'S AUTHORITY

Doubt Arises as to Whether Sorensen Can Summarily Order Changes in Police Department

Expected that Subject Will Be Discussed Fully by that Body; Applica- tions for Patrolmen

The question of just how much authority the mayor has in dictating the internal policy and workings of the La Crosse police department is expected to be the chief topic for discussion at the meeting of the fire and police commission to be held this evening.

While members of the commission decline to discuss the recent orders of the mayor to Chief of Police John Webber—to make several shifts in the department—it is understood that opinions of several leading local lawyers are to the effect that the executive may have gone beyond his rights in summarily ordering changes in the policing of the city.

There are others, however, who claim that Mayor Sorensen is within his rights in ordering changes.
These base their opinions on the broad clause of the charter which says the mayor shall be head of the fire and police departments.

It is the contention of one prominent attorney that the mayor's authority includes the right to dictate the broad policy of the administration but that the details of carrying out a policy or the enforcement of ordinances rests solely with the chief of police.

Lawyers Quote Charter

One La Crosse attorney points to Section 3 of Chapter XI of the city charter which specifically says:
"He (the chief of police) may perform any of his duties by his subordinates, and shall be responsible for their specific acts done in the course of their duty. It shall be the duty of each of the subordinates of the chief of police to do whatever he is appointed and directed to do by the chief of police, and to obey his lawful commands."

In support of the contention that the chief, under the law, should have sole authority over the men, lawyers call attention to a ruling which they claim Attorney G. M. Woodward made several times while head of the La Crosse Fire and Police commission. Mr. Woodward ruled, they claim, that the chief of police is responsible for the efficiency of his department and that in event the service was believed to be inefficient charges to that effect would have to be preferred against the chief, and heard and ruled on by the fire and police commission.

Relies on Charter
Mayor Sorensen did not re-appoint
Mr. Woodward member of the commission upon the expiration of his term recently.

Mayor Sorensen today said that his recent order to Webber was based on the charter clause naming him
head of the fire and police departments. He said, however, that he had not gone into the question deeply and had secured no opinion on the subject from the city attorney.
City Attorney Higbee today said he had not looked up the law on the matter.

At the meeting of the commission tonight several applications for places as patrolmen will be considered by the commission.

EDISON SHOWS ILLNESS

BOSTON, Sept. 3.—Weakened and showing the effects of his recent illness plainly, Thomas A. Edison, with his wife and their son and two daughters, today planned to continue their auto trip to New Jersey. On arrival here from Portland, Me., the electricity wizard, who had been reported dangerously ill, walked from his car into the hotel and today showed further improvement.

NATIONAL BOARD TO DECIDE HERE IF SCHOOL MOVES

School

At 11 o'clock tomorrow morning
the national board of the Reformed church will meet at the home of Rev.
E. Vornholt, pastor of St. John's Reformed church, 414 Market street, to pass upon the offer made by the board of trade to induce the church college to locate here.

Rev. Vornholt said today that there is a chance of the change being made, and he summarized the status of the negotiations as follows:
The national board offered to come to La Crosse for $30,000 and a site; the board of trade has tentatively agreed to raise $15,000 and to furnish a 20 acre site.

The pastor said that should the church board agree to stand in favor of moving, it would then decide as to the acceptance of the La Crosse offer. He could not say what the outcome would be, but was sure that the school would not be moved until there should be available funds sufficient for the buildings deemed necessary. That possibly $1

SULLIVAN BACK

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—Federal patronage for Illinois democrats is to be tackled at conferences within the next few days, following the return to Chicago today of Roger C. Sullivan, former national committeeman, from a tour of South American and Europe.

His Practice.
"Hello! Is that Dr. Glizzard's office?"
"Yes."
"I'd like to speak to the doctor."
"He's busy just now."
An hour passed.
"Hello! Dr. Glizzard?"
"No; this is his office, but he's busy."
Lapse of another hour.
"Hello! I want to talk to Dr. Glizzard."
"He's busy."
"Busy? What keeps him so busy?"
"He's playing golf."—Chicago Tribune.

In a history of the great advance in postal methods accomplished by Sir Rowland Hill is given this anecdote: To the postoffice of at that time tiny Ambleside came one day a well to do man to buy a stamp to put on the letter he was about to post. "Is this new reform going to last?" he asked the postmaster. "Certainly," was the reply. "It is quite established." "Oh, well, then," said the man, resolved to give the thing generous support, "give me three stamps!"

EVANS LOW IN GOLF TITLE PLAY

GARDEN CITY, L. I., Sept. 3.—

"Chick" Evans of Chicago today undoubtedly won the low medal prize for the opening rounds of the national amateur golf championship. Evans played a 71 on his second round today and with the 77 played yesterday his total was 148, three strokes better than the total of Francis Ouimet of Boston, who was his nearest competitor. Ouimet played a 76 today, making his total 151. Several scores were yet to be turned in at 1:30, but it was believed Evans would not be beaten.

Evans was the winner of the low medal prize during the championship play at Chicago last year.

THE TRIBUNE'S Daily Short Story

IN THE CASE

By KATHERINE HOPSON.

Copyright, 1913, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

The locket was found by Fred Lighton on a muddy crossing. It was a large, old-fashioned affair of little value, but on opening it, he had been startled by the likeness of the sweet face to the ideal woman of his dreams. In imagination she had always had a delicately featured oval face, with soft dark eyes and masses of blue-black hair piled high on her head.

"I shall find her if it takes me the rest of my life," vowed Lighton. "Even now, she may be in this very city."

Hereafter the object of his life was to find the original of the girl in the picture. He advertised the locket extensively in the "Lost and Found" departments of the papers, and even inserted personals, but to all these efforts there was no response. He never turned a corner without hope of seeing her; and he never entered a street car without the same idea. On Sundays he haunted the different churches in hope of finding her, and became a frequenter of theaters from grand opera to "movies."

All these quests were fruitless until one day he caught a glimpse of the picture's living counterpart as she entered a waiting motor.

He summoned a taxi.
"Catch that car—the big, gray one. I'll make it worth your while!" he shouted to the chauffeur.

Lighton had no definite idea of what he was going to do when he caught up. He could not very well stop a strange young woman and demand an introduction. But in the excitement he did not consider that. The driver exceeded the speed limit, but a blinding snowstorm and heavy traffic of the streets made it impossible to catch up. After a time the disappointed man was obliged to give up the search.

"At any rate I know now that she's a living reality," thought Lighton.

His lonely bachelorhood and the flourishing state of his finances made the search possible, and his efforts did not flag. However, it was not until five more months had elapsed that he was rewarded—and then by accident.

He had boarded an early morning train to reach a business appointment in the southern part of the state. He had settled himself comfortably in the car seat with a newspaper when suddenly he became aware of the girl sitting in front of him across the aisle. It was she.

He leaned forward in delight. Then sank back in amazed dejection. In her arms, looking out of the car window, sat a chubby baby boy, and a small girl, a stair step older, wriggled restlessly in the seat facing them.

That the dream woman might be already married was a possibility he had never taken into account. Surprisingly he compared her face with that in the locket and found them identical.

The baby's moist, plump little hands kept pulling at her sleeves to draw himself up and the little girl's feet kicked against her skirt. Lighton had always been fond of children but he felt that he hated these.

"Tiresome little brats," he thought savagely, when he saw the effort the woman was obliged to make to keep the children still. She looked tired and a little pale.

Presently the little girl got out of the seat and started down the aisle. Lighton spread open for her amusement the gaudily colored funny page of the paper. The child was delighted, but shyness held her tongue.

Having just quieted the fretfulness of the boy, the woman became suddenly aware of the girl's absence.

"Marion!" she called in alarm, and looked anxiously around. In spite of her tired, worried look, she seemed absurdly young to be the mother of these two restless children.

Lighton picked up the little girl and brought her over. "She wanted to explore the car," he said.

"Oh, thank you. Baby had taken my attention so I did not notice Marion slip away."

"They're a handful, I fancy."

"Yes, indeed; but aren't they fine babies?"

He assented warmly. After a few more words there was no longer excuse to linger, and he returned to his seat. Presently a man sauntered in from the smoking car, and leisurely sat down in the seat beside the woman.

"Well, Buster!" He gave the fat boy a playful poke.

"How's papa's girl?" he added, as the small girl climbed up in his lap. But he serenely ignored the beautiful woman.

"The selfish duffer," declared Lighton. "He is fond of the children because he sees in them a reflection of himself; but the woman is of little consequence after she became the wife of his lordship."

THE UNWRITTEN LAW

IT'S THE TALK OF THE TOWN

And justly so, as it is unquestionably one of the best three reel features ever in the city.

LAST TIMES TODAY

The La Crosse Theatre

a long time ago. Vainly he racked his brain for a connecting clew.
"Confound it," he muttered. "I wish I were a better hand at remembering faces. I'm sure I've met that chap before!"

The little girl began clamoring for a drink, and the man, who had become absorbed in a magazine, said: "I'll get her one, Maude." He picked up a telescope cup, and with the chubby girl in tow went to the other end of the car.

"Maude—Maude—a name immortalized by Tennyson as the embodiment of romance," thought Lighton. "Think of ignoring a pearl like that."

He had noticed the man glance at him as he passed his seat, and as the latter returned, he paused and held out a cordial hand. "This is Fred Lighton, I believe," he said, pleasantly.

"The same," answered Lighton, shaking hands in a dazed way. "Your face is very familiar, but I can't attach the name."

"Armstrong—Arthur Armstrong of old university days." They shook hands all over again, and Armstrong dropped down beside him. Together they began reminiscences of school years.

"I shall never forget the year you were quarterback," laughed Armstrong.

"But it was you as full back that won the game that day," returned Lighton.

Armstrong launched into recollections of that particular game, but Lighton's thoughts wandered. The present was too insistently painful to be long ignored and at the first opportunity, he brought the subject back.

"What a fine family you have, Armstrong. I have been noticing them."

"Yes, I have some A No. 1 youngsters."

"And wife, too," Lighton found himself stammering.

"You're right, I have. But this isn't my wife—it's my sister Maude. My wife is with her mother who has been ill. We are on the way to join her now. Maude is helping me herd the babies."

"Then she isn't married?" blurted Lighton.

"No, and you're not either, I judge," laughed the other. "Will you come and meet her?"

Lighton rose with alacrity. "With the greatest of pleasure!"

Arthur Armstrong performed the introduction in his bluff cordial way, then devoted his attention to the children.

As she raised her beautiful dark eyes to Lighton, Miss Armstrong read joy, admiration and something more.

"Do you believe in fate, Miss Armstrong?" He took from his pocket the locket he had found eight months before.

"Why, that's the locket with my picture which Daddy lost from his watch chain last winter," she cried in surprise and held out her hand.

But Lighton returned the case to his pocket. "Not yet, Miss Armstrong. I crave your permission to keep it a little longer—until the time is ripe for me to talk with your father about making an exchange."

How Tin Foil Is Made.

Tin foil, which is extensively used for wrapping tobacco, certain food products and other articles of commerce, is a combination of lead with a thin coating of tin on each side. First a tin pipe is made of a thickness proportionate to its diameter, proportion not given. This pipe is then filled with molten lead and rolled or beaten to the extreme thinness required. In this process the tin coating spreads simultaneously with the spreading of the lead core and continuously maintains a thin, even coating of tin on each side of the center sheet of lead, even though it may be reduced to a thickness of .001 inch or less.

Vampires.

The belief in vampires can be traced back for more than 2,000 years, yet there is not on record a single authenticated instance of a vampire having been seen by a human being, and there are no data available by means of which the origin of the belief can be ascertained with any degree of certainty. These blood sucking apparitions, or "living, mischievous, murderous dead bodies," as one writer quaintly termed them, were common to all countries, whether occidental or oriental.

RICH, RED BLOOD RESISTS DISEASE

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Make Pure Blood and Restore Health

Thin, pale people lack the power of resistance to disease that rich, red blood gives. Nervous breakdown is the direct result of thin blood. Pale people are always nervous. Such people need Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills are a doctor's prescription, not a patent medicine. The prescription was used by the doctor in his private practice and was found to have such a wide field of usefulness that this efficient remedy was given to the world by being placed on sale with complete directions for use, written by the doctor himself.

Good blood means health; impure blood means continued ill health. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make pure, clean, healthy blood. Don't put off trying them any longer, but get a 50-cent box from your druggist and begin the treatment today.—Advertisement.

Daddy's Bedtime

Where the Story— Little White Pearl Comes From.

ON her neck Evelyn wore a little chain and locket. In the locket was a tiny pearl.

"It's a beautiful pearl," said daddy. "I wonder if you know where pearls come from?"

Jack and Evelyn thought they came from the jeweler's shop. Daddy agreed to this. "That's where we buy them," he said.

"But what I want to know is where the jeweler gets them."

Jack and Evelyn looked at one another. They did not know.

"Since you do not know, let me tell you that the lovely pearl comes out of the ugly gray oyster."

"The pearl is really made by the oyster. As the little shellfish rests on the bed of the ocean bits of sand sometimes get into the shell."

"The grain of sand annoys the oyster, for it rubs against its soft skin. So the oyster covers the grain of sand with a watery stuff which its skin absorbs wherever anything hurts it."

"Now, the watery stuff soon hardens, and when it hardens whatever is coated with it has a nice white shell over it. Each day the oyster puts on another coat until the grain of sand has grown to be a large round pearl."

"Then one day the fisherman comes along with his net, and the little gray man's boat. When the shell is pried open by the fisherman he sees the lovely pearl inside and carries it away to sell to the jeweler."

"Then the jeweler takes the pearl and places it in a piece of jewelry, perhaps into a locket."

"Now that I have told you what makes the pearl, let me speak of a little tale the Persians tell about it. They know that the pearl really comes from the oyster, but have a pretty account for its being in the shell."

"They say that the oyster is a very good little shellfish, and every night when the sun goes down and the moon rises the oyster comes up and floats on the top of the water."

"There it opens its shell so that one side stands up like a sail, and as it drifts along the oyster says its prayers."

"Way up on high where the angels are watching the world and listening to the prayers as they float up is one angel that is there to listen to the prayers of God's dumb creatures."

THE BOOK of EVELYN

Author of
To-Morrow's Tangle,
The Pioneer,
Rich Men's Children,
Etc.

A great opera singer, before she became famous; an Italian count, people of society, boarding-house folks, all played a part in Evelyn's winter in New York. Bonaventura, the singer, a flashing, vibrant genius—Evelyn, sensitive, high-bred, attractive—meets unexpectedly in the life of one man. The situation grows tense! Will Evelyn speak the knowledge that comes unsought from the other woman's own lips?

The story leaves the reader smiling and content, believing that the world is that very good place it can be on occasion. With subtlest artistry and finest dramatic sense, Miss Bonner presents a problem that will make talk, and a story that holds the attention with unflagging interest. Evelyn tells her own love-story in a way to warm the heart and cheer the soul.

MUCH IN DEMANDIn sarcastic mood, the Chicago Record-Herald observes:"Charles S. Mellen, until recently president of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, is to receive $30,000 a year for offering advice from time to time to his successor. People who bought New York, New Haven and Hartford stock
a few months ago have thus far refrained from drafting resolutions thanking Mr. Mellen for his willingness to advise."This was written the day before the dozen to twenty people were sacrificed in the latest wreck horror of this abominable corporation yesterday. The loss of life, as always, was due to the use of old wooden coaches that splintered into kindling wood when the crash came; the use of these coaches is due to the stock wat-tering and dividend inflating policy which, under President Mellen, diverted the funds that should have gone for equipment, into the pockets of the manipulators. Wreck after wreck, and needless deaths by the score, are recorded in the pages of this damnable railroad history.As official advisor at $30,000 per year, what does ex-President Mellen advise?INTERESTING DEBATE AT EPISCOPAL CONVENTIONAlthough the controversy over changing the name of the Episcopal church is growing less bitter, there is still no definite indication as to what action will be taken by the delegates to the general convention of the church, who will gather in New York in October.The question of changing the name, it appears, must come before the convention in at least one instance, as the diocese of California has framed a memorial asking that it be allowed to drop the word "Protestant" from the title page of the prayer book. When this memorial is discussed the convention probably will be obliged to place some definition upon the word "Protestant" as applied to the Episcopal church.At the same time, some of the high church delegates, it is expected, will insist upon a definition of theword "Catholic." These delegates are in favor of calling the Episcopal church the "Catholic."It is safe to say that all parties in the Episcopal church hold the Church of Rome to be overwrought authority, and, therefore, not to be purely Catholic, but only Roman Catholic, and that Protestantism is over-wrought personal liberty of thought and action, and, therefore, not Catholic, but Presbyterian, Methodist or some other denomination. All seem to hold that the pure Catholic is represented by neither extreme.It is known now that some delegates to the October convention are at work upon a definition of the word "Catholic" that may please all parties, and if they can themselves agree upon such definition, to present it to the convention, along with the definition of the word "Protestant."
That done, they will urge that the whole matter of name be left open for a time to give the Episcopal church and the general public a chance to become informed.They say they wish to avoid a triumph of any party within the Episcopal church, a driving out of anybody who may be frightened by the unexplained word Catholic, or a cry on the part of the Protestants that the Episcopal church has gone Romanward, or on the part of the Roman Catholics that it is imitating the Roman church.Whatever the outcome, it is certain that the discussion at the New York convention will be earnest and interesting. All the leaders of the Episcopal church will take part in these discussions, and at least sixteen debaters, eight clergy and eight laymen, will be ready with earnestly written papers.MENTAL AND MORAL GROWTH WITH SCHOOLSLa Crosse citizens may be pardon-ed a feeling of pride aroused by the announcement that the schools of the city have opened for the 1913-14 season. This is indeed becoming an educational center of importance, a fact that is adding to the moral as well as the intellectual tone of the community.Under keen and progressive management the public schools of the city have attained a place in the front rank of grammar schools, and our high school has become an institution of learning the excellence of which is in keeping with the monumental building in which it reposes, ranking in scholarship any in the northwest.The state normal, although young, is recognized as a model, and its influence has been felt with compelling force in the movement that of late years is elevating the Wisconsin normals into a position of unquestioned leadership. The new school of physical directors, the importance of which is now established with the fixity of an axiom, is its latest innovation, and the triumph of its two years course in university work has achieved has assured its permanency in this and other schools.The Parents and Teachers' association is preparing for an aggressive winter; the various school organizations for the promotion of wholesome and helpful entertainment are today announcing their programs.We have here achievements in industrial education that, in addition to their educational and advertising value to the city, are as prolific of profit to the community as the first rank of industrial institutions, and in addition there is in prospect a theological college of high standing which will add not a little to the sum total of mental as well as moral training.The citizen who does not breathe a new atmosphere as the result of the work already accomplished by this group of educational institutions is not awake to the most important growth of the decade or cognizant of vital changes in the environment of the city.Richard Pearson Hobson still wants to go to the United States senate, but it seems as though there is enough yellow peril there now.New York society women are carrying pet monkeys, which are doubtless more interesting than those they have married.Now that New York has two governors, it would seem necessary to exchange the gubernatorial chair for a sofa.Will the diaphanous skirt last?

With Green Peas and Mint Sauce

The pretty Sunday school teacher had been telling a little boy the story of a disobedient lamb that was eaten
by the wolf."You see," she said, "had the lamb been obedient and stayed in the fold it would not have been eaten by the wolf, would it?""No, ma'am," answered the boy promptly, "it would have been eaten by us."

What She Did

She had made him a present of a pair of green, red and blue carpet slippers for his first birthday since their marriage, and he was in ecstacies over them."I knew you'd like them, Harry,"
she smiled, "if for no other reason that that I made them all myself.""What?" exclaimed Harry. "You don't mean to say that this is all your work? Great Scott! What a genius of a wife I've married!""Of course," qualified the young wife, "I bought the uppers, and Mary sewed them together, and I got a man to sole them; but I put on the bows and did them up in the box—and, do you know, Harry, I think you ought to be very proud to have such a practical little wife."

William H. Crane, the actor, was recently asked how it was that with all actors having an ambition to as-played Hamlet.""Did you, indeed?" said an admir-cess? Didn't the audience call you before the curtain?""Call me," replied Crane. "Why, man, they dared me!"

The skin is but a fine network of tiny blood vessels, and the specific action of S. S. S. is declared to be a pronounced stimulation of the activity of these cells. Certain it is that in a surprisingly short time any skin eruption shows a most remarkable change; it begins to dry up; the skin scales off in tiny flakes, and soon a layer of clear, healthy and firm tissue results.The reason for this is in the peculiar stimulation of S. S. S., which enables the cells in the skin to select from the blood the nutriment it requires for regeneration.This fact has been demonstrated year in and year out in a wonderful number

A Romance of Extraordinary Distinction

The MarshalBy Mary Raymond Shipman Andrews

CHAPTER I.
A Prophecy.It was Francois who had his way.
Pierre clamored for the story of the old witch and the horses; Marie begged to hear about the white ducks and the princess; Tomas, at the top of his lungs, demanded the episode of the man who fell off the church steeple; each child wished a particular tale. Half a dozen high, little French voices floated shrilly into the garden, on a sunshiny morning of 1829 from the great entry of an old farm-house in the valley under the Jura Mountains. The grandmother, sitting white-capped in the center of the hubbub, heard one more willingly than the others, for not only was Francois her best loved but also the story he asked for was the story she liked to tell.In the large kitchen beyond the open door the sun lay in patches on the bare scrubbed floor, and the mother moved swiftly, getting dinner ready against twelve o'clock, when the father should come in from the fields; it was the grandmother's hour to amuse the children.
And today they were all pleading at once for a story, clapping hands, jumping up and down as if life depended on the choice. Suddenly, in the excess of enthusiasm, Tomas and Francois and Pierre were in a heap, sprawling at her feet on the earth
floor of the entry."Stop, stop," said the grandmother. "Good children do not go so fast," and she carefully sorted out the heap. "You, Francois, you are too quick—you will finish by hurting yourself. Stand here quiet, near me, and listen well," and her arm about him, she drew the boy close."You will tell my tale, grand-mere—the tale of 'Napoleon Comes'
?" he asked eagerly, and the grandmother smiled; it was what she wished to tell.And now, with the faces of the children turned toward her, she pushed the big horn-framed glasses up on her brow, buried her knitting needles deep in scarlet wool, and folding her work carefully, laid it in the work-box. All five watched the ceremony, the methodical habit of a lifetime, and little Marie gave a trembling sigh as it ended. Only that sound broke the stillness, and in a moment the grandmother's voice began."Francois, if you pinch your brother you are not a good child, and can not listen to the story," she admonished. "Be quiet, then, and you shall hear how the Emperor came to this house, and sat in the great room there—Napoleon!"The five pairs of eyes followed hers as she glanced toward the door. "Yes, at that table he sat," the gentle voice went on, "with his great officers about him, with their uniforms and bright facings and gold buttons, and their swords clanking as they walked, and their plumes, on their heads. But then—I must go back—I must tell it rightly, the story of Napoleon. At the name the grandmother's head seemed to lift, and dignity was in her manner. The boy against her arm, his brown eyes, of uncommon
size and intensity, fastened on hers, thrilled."Yes, grand-mere, from the beginning," he said earnestly.Smiling again, the grandmother began. "You must know, my children, that it was on a day in the month of May, in the year 1813, that he came. You, Lucie, and you, Pierre, and Marie were not born,
only Francois and Tomas. Francois was the older—not quite three years old. The mother had gone to care for your Aunt Lucie, who was ill,
and I kept the house for your father.
It was the year of the great conscription, when the Emperor took all the men to fight, not only the strong ones, but the boys, and the old and infirm, if they might but drag themselves at the tail of a regiment. So the few men who were not under the flag were sorely needed by their families, for it was necessary, if the women and children were not to starve, that some should stay to work in the fields.
Your father was of the few who had escaped in our village of Viques."One morning a man appeared in the village and said that Napoleon would pass this way within a few hours. No one quite believed, yet there was excitement, and the people stood about chattering, restless, when suddenly—I can see it as if it were yesterday—a half dozen horsemen clattered from the turn of the road up there and galloped down the street and on beyond. The crowd stared. Then every one talked at once; there was a great confusion.
But at last a good old man, well known to us all, raised his hand for silence, and as we listened he told us that probably it was not the great army which would pass through Viques, but only Napoleon and his staff. We were not on the road which led to Germany, and the great army was hurrying there. It was probable that the Emperor turned from his road to take the lists of men and of resources in the village."There was a stir against the grandmother's arm. "Comment?"
she asked."Please, grand-mere, don't tell what the old man said," Francois spoke. "It is so long before you come to Napoleon." The child's manner was impetuous, but very winning. The old woman felt the charm of it."You are always eager, Francois," she said. "Very well, then. Two young men were placed down the road to warn us, so that the men of the place might hide on the mountain to escape being taken for soldiers. All that day nothing happened, but the next morning toward half past ten, as I prepared the dinner, there was a sudden noise in the street, and your father came in."My mother," he said, "Napoleon comes.""Outside I heard the neighbors calling the same two words—'Napoleon comes'—one called it to another. If the trumpet of the angel had sounded the end of the world, they could not have had more fear.
Then your father kissed me, and kneeling and held you, Francois, and Tomas, in his arms, and I saw tears,
but he was brave—but yes. 'Courage,
little mother,' he said, 'for me and for the babies. Courage.'"And at that your father, who was my little lad once, you know, my dears, had gone, and I stood with an ache where my heart should have been, and for a moment I was stupid and could not think. Francois held to my apron, and I lifted To-
mas. 'What are you crying about,
naughty grand-mere?' asked Tomas.
So I dried the tears, and Francois began to say that he was sleepy. I undressed him, and the baby and put them to bed for their nap in the little chamber which opens into the great one, and as I left them asleep and came again into the large room there, with its great oak table, I stood a moment and thought of your dear father flying through the woods, and of how I was left to take care of his home and his children.There's a world of satisfac-

American War, and I will say this, that if the War Department records are consulted, it will be found that the casualties in my regiment were less than in any other regiment of the Army Corps while at Camps Alger, Meade and Bushnell. The total deaths in my regiment during the seven months' service, were seven out of a total number of 1400. I, of course, cannot help but think that Peruna certainly was a great benefit to my command."

IMPERIALS TAKE OPENING CONTEST

Defeat Copeland Park Nelsons by 4 to 1 Score in Best Game of the Season

In the opening game for the city championship in the Senior Indoor Baseball league the Imperials of West Ave., defeated the Nelsons of Copeland park 4 to 1. The game was the finest exhibition of ball yet seen on the playground. The batteries of both teams were in excellent form. Knuteson and Clow for the Imperials and Weigle and Schroeder for the Nelsons worked with a precision which was remarkable. Knuteson has a little better of the argument when it came to strikeouts, having four to the credit while Weigle had nine. Unfortunately for the Nelsons the two hits off Knuteson came at inopportune times, winning the game for the Imperials. In the seventh inning a man on second, Gerrard came to bat and lined out a homer. Clow started the scoring in the first, getting a hit and scoring on a sacrifice by one of his team mates. In the fourth Lawrence, shortstop for the Imperials, tied the score and again in the fifth the Imperials made one more, getting the lead and maintaining it throughout the remainder of the game.

Score by innings: R H E
Imperials . . . 0001102x—4 2 0
Nelsons . . . 10000000—1 3 2

The next game in the championship series will be played at Copeland park next Sunday. The game will be played at 2 p. m. Interest is at high pitch and it is expected that a large crowd of enthusiasts will be present to watch the teams battle.

SULZER ISSUES PARDON

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 3.—Governor Sulzer this afternoon pardoned Joseph G. Robin, the New York banker. He said he acted after an investigation by Frank Moss, assistant district attorney of New York county, who submitted a report holding the prisoner innocent. It is asserted that Robin pleaded guilty on an understanding that he would avoid risk of a trial and relieve his sister from prosecution on a charge of which he knew her to be innocent.

NEARLY 800 START HIGH SCHOOL YEAR

Freshmen Class Breaks All Records with 188; Football Squad Is Already Out

The high school opened yesterday with an enrollment of nearly eight hundred. There is a record freshman class, one hundred and eighty-eight being enrolled in the first year class. The nearest previous approach to this number was in 1912, one hundred and seventy. To give the students an opportunity to arrange their schedules there was no school yesterday afternoon.

There are twelve new teachers as follows: Ada L. Pence, Latin and English; Ruth Cotton, English; Helen Scofield, a L. C. H. S. graduate, Latin and German; Raymond B. Carmichael, mathematics and commercial law; R. C. Puckett, who is now in Cairo, Egypt, on his way home from the Philippines, science; Emmett A. Hassel, science and mathematics; Grace Gesell, another L. C. H. S. graduate, sewing, cooking and millinery; Franklin Thomas, pattern making and moulding; Gertrude Griffin, teacher of art; and Owen Horne, director of boys' athletics.

The football squad has been out since last Wednesday. A big squad was out yesterday afternoon and displayed much enthusiasm. The team this year will be light but fast, and although several men have been lost by graduation and low marks, Coach Horne expects a good team.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION TO COUNTY COURT.

State of Wisconsin, County Court La Crosse County, ss.—In Probate. Notice is hereby given that at a regular term of the County Court, to be held in and for said County, at the Court House, in the City of La Crosse, in said County, on the first Tuesday, being the 7th day of October, A. D. 1914, at 10 o'clock A. M., the following matter will be heard and considered:

The application of Caroline Harr, widow and trustee under the last will and testament of John Harr, late of the Town of Burns, in said County of La Crosse, deceased, for the adjustment, settlement and allowance of her account as such trustee and for the approval of the management and disposition of the estate received by her from the executor, and for such other order as may be proper in the matter.

By order of the Court,
JOHN BRINDLEY,
County Judge.

MONEY BILL ENDS COMMERCE COURT

Emergency Relief Fund of $100,000 to Get Americans Out of Mexico in the Appropriation

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Abolishing the commerce court and providing an emergency relief fund of $100,000 for transportation of American refugees from Mexico, the efficiency appropriation bill was reported to the house today.

The commerce court is to be abolished sixty days after passage of the measure. Elaborate provisions for the transfer of its judges and suits now before it are provided.

Other provisions in the measure are: An appropriation of $400,000 for beginning the work of physical valuation of railroads by the interstate commerce commission, although the commission had requested an appropriation of $1,500,000.

To cover relief given flood sufferers in the Ohio and Mississippi valleys last spring, $785,000.

Other appropriations were: Navigation and harbor improvements: Ashland, Wis., breakwater, $25,000; Puget Sound buoys, $30,000.

PAY LAST TRIBUTE TO COUNTY CLERK

SPARTA, Wis., Sept. 3.—A fitting last tribute to the memory of the late Truman R. Talbot, county clerk of Monroe county, was paid Sunday at the last services over his remains, and at the same time there was a display such as has been unequalled in the county for years of the esteem in which the deceased was held by his neighbors and constituents.

There was a prayer at the Court street residence of the Talbot family in Sparta at one o'clock, after which the remains were taken to the St. Paul depot and put aboard a special train of three coaches and taken to Tomah, escorted by the Odd Fellows lodge of the city of Sparta and a train load of neighbors and friends.

At Tomah the train was met by the Tomah Odd Fellows lodge and the remains taken to the home of Fred Talbot where there was a funeral service. The interment was in the cemetery south of the city. At the grave the Odd Fellows services were read. It was beautiful and impressive and was particularly touching for the reason that the duty of reading the funeral service had always fallen upon Mr. Talbot during his lifetime and membership in the order. The special train returned to Sparta about 6:30. Space will not permit the mentioning of the names of those persons from Sparta who were in attendance at the funeral at Tomah, as there were about one hundred and fifty of them. There were included County Judge McCoy, District Attorney Abel and all the county officers, also Mayor McMullan and City Attorney Rice and other city officials; Postmaster Rice and Senator Teasdale.

Much speculation is extant as to who will succeed County Clerk Talbot in office. A move was started for the appointment of Mr. Talbot's son or widow, on the evening that his death occurred, but it is said that Mrs. Talbot does not care to assume the responsibility and that the son cannot afford to give up his present position and employment to take the office of county clerk, which it is estimated pays something like thirteen or fourteen hundred dollars a year in salary and fees, the salary being one thousand dollars. Two or three men are all at present avowed candidates and it may be safely prophesied that by the time the special meeting of the county board is called and the members arrive in Sparta, there will be a nice field from which the county legislators can pick their recording secretary.

Mr. A. H. Smith and wife and family spent a short time in Sparta Monday enroute from Mrs. Smith's former home, south of Wilton, to Merrill, Wis.

LABORER KILLED BY "Q" TRAIN

Edward Brown Struck and Instantly Killed at Lynxville About Midnight

Edward Brown, Bridgeport, Conn., a middle aged laborer employed on a river dredge of the Burlington railroad, was killed about 12 o'clock last night near the station at Lynxville by a train. Passenger train No. 58, eastbound passed through Lynxville at about the time Brown was killed. Officials of the Burlington here are of the opinion that Brown was struck by No. 58.

The body was found an hour later several feet from the tracks. From the mutilated condition of the head and upper part of the body it is thought that the man was killed instantly.

Brown was working on the night shift of the dredge that is employed two miles below Lynxville, taking sand out of the river. It is thought that during the midnight recess from work Brown left his work and came to the station for something, and on his way back was killed. The crew in charge of the engine of No. 58 say they did not see anyone on the track ahead of their train.

The body was brought this morning to La Crosse, and is being held at Elbertson & White's. Authorities here are in communication with Bridgeport to ascertain whether Brown has any relatives.

CONSERVATION OF HEALTH OF CHILDREN IS THE SUBJECT. IN TALK TO THE TEACHERS

Dr. J. M. Furstman, health commissioner, has prepared a comprehensive article on the conservation of children's health, the first installment of which appears in The Tribune today. The article is intended as information for La Crosse school teachers to whom, to a great degree, is assigned the responsibility for the welfare of a large majority of the city's young. The second installment will appear in this paper Friday.

It is obvious to any at all familiar with the prevention of communicable diseases that the teacher may be of great assistance or great detriment in enforcing preventive measures. She is in even more intimate contact with the children than are their parents and observes them collectively and individually, and is able to see into details of their dealings with one another.

Probably all communicable diseases attack children of school age; in fact, a large majority of all cases are found among school children. It is commonly believed that many children are infected in school, and we know this to be a fact under certain conditions; in others, our knowledge is not so well founded. It cannot be doubted, however, that in many schools the conditions are ideal for the transmission of communicable diseases. The common drinking cup and common towel afford opportunity for the exchange of contagion, and altogether conditions are such that it is surprising that communicable diseases do not spread more widely among pupils.

Before proceeding to a detailed consideration of the various diseases common to school children, it is important that we should have some knowledge of the meaning of the word "contact" as applied to those diseases.

Smallpox Dangerous

It is hardly possible that a susceptible individual passing a patient with smallpox on the street will contract the disease from this momentary contact. On the other hand, however, if such an individual shook hands and remained in conversation with the patient for several minutes, we should expect him to develop the disease and such a contact would be dangerous. The chances of an individual contracting a communicable disease from a five minute contact are necessarily less than if the contact lasted ten minutes. It is generally supposed that a contact in the open air is less dangerous than in a closed room. We have evidence of the truth of this statement every day. Persons who live in the house with a patient suffering with a contagious disease are more liable to acquire the disease than are those who have come into contact with the person outside. Apply these facts to school life. In school a large number of susceptible individuals are in intimate contact for a long period under, usually, unfavorable conditions. Introduce into such a room a patient with a transmissible disease and the result equals the application of a torch to kindling wood. The ideal school, from the public health point of view, is one in which the period of contact is as brief as possible; ventilation as perfect as circumstances will permit; the rules of personal hygiene are adhered to by every individual member; and all health laws and regulations so observed that the opportunities for an infected individual gaining access to the room are almost nil. How to bring about such a condition of affairs will appear presently.

A Teacher's Duty

The teacher's duty to the pupil in regard to the prevention of communicable diseases is three-fold: she should endeavor to prevent the dissemination of disease in the school; she should attempt to impress upon her scholars the truths of prevention when their minds are plastic and register impressions deeply; and she should keep herself correctly informed so that the first and second duties may be perfectly performed.

There are certain general principles which must be known before a specific description of each disease is attempted.

Infection or contagion enters the body through the mouth, nose, mucous membranes generally, and the skin in order of their importance. It is probably very rarely that infection enters through the intact or unbroken skin. Infection or contagion is given off in the secretions of the nose, mouth, ear, intestines, bladder and skin. The most important avenues of infection and discharge of the virus or causative factor of communicable diseases are the mucous membranes and their secretions, of the mouth, nose and ear. If these parts are healthy, they are much less liable to infection than if unhealthy, and if healthy, are less liable to retain the infection after an attack of a communicable disease. A convalescent from a communicable disease is dangerous as long as he has a sore throat, a running nose or a discharging ear, and should be excluded from school until these parts are perfectly healthy.

Bearing in mind the infectious nature of the secretions of the mouth and nose, it becomes at once evident that the common drinking cup, the common towel, the pencil and slate used in common, and anything likely to favor an exchange of these secretions, are dangerous and should be discarded. As teachers, therefore, you should see that these articles and practices are abolished and discontinued. It is true that by so doing, you may incur the enmity of those fathers and mothers, who believe that the things their grand parents did are right and proper and that any change is an imposition. You may comfort yourselves by remembering that nothing of the sort is accomplished without a great deal of opposition.

The roller towel used in common is more convenient and less expensive than individual towels, but a child's eyesight is of more value than a thousand roller towels. There is a halo of sentiment around the common drinking cup and the slate washed in the old fashioned way; but unfortunately, disease is also transmitted by these articles.

The ventilation should be perfect. The fact that children thrive physically and are brighter mentally in open air schools is now established. Not only is this the case, but pneumonia, the forerunner of tuberculosis may be cured by this means. If it is not possible to have an open air school, pure air should be admitted freely to the room. The temperature of the room should be kept as constant as possible, and it is better to have a constant fairly low temperature, than a high temperature while followed by a lower temperature. Spitting on the floor should be made a serious offense, and children taught to sneeze and cough when necessary, into their handkerchiefs; to do otherwise is not only impolite but a menace to those in the vicinity. Children should also be taught to wash their hands carefully after each use of the toilet and cleanliness in this matter insisted upon by an occasional visit and inspection of the sanitary conditions. It is not necessary to further into these details. If you have grasped the principles of transmission, you can supply other details yourselves; if you have failed to grasp these principles, further explanation is useless.

SETS LIMIT ON GAME IMPORTS

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 3.—A resident of Wisconsin going into South Dakota and killing fifty game birds may not ship that number back to Wisconsin without becoming liable under the Wisconsin law which provides that no person may kill or have in his possession more than twenty birds. Such is the opinion of Atty.-Gen. Owen, given to Game Warden John Sholtz.

ASQUITH RELEASES WOMEN ASSAILANT

LONDON, Sept. 3.—The two

fragettes who last week pounded Premier Asquith, on the golf links at Lossiemouth, Scotland, were charged today at the request of the prime minister. The trial of the women was set for this afternoon as the prosecution was abandoned cause Asquith asked it.

Last Friday afternoon, while the prime minister was playing a game of golf, the women eluded detectives and attacked him. They knocked off his hat, pummeled him with their fists and struck him with umbrellas. Asquith did not defend himself, but his daughter, Miss V. let Asquith, who was near, ran his aid and attacked the suffragettes vigorously.

M'GREGOR JAIL A POPULAR PLACE

M'GREGOR, Iowa, Sept. 3.—The Clayton county jail evidently has become popular with hoboes as a pleasant place in which to loaf around during the summer days, while the taxpayer pays for their board and lodging.

A stranger, who gave his name as John Schea, drifted into McGregor a few days ago. Soon after his arrival he was found on the street in an intoxicated condition and put in the town jail. The following day he was brought before Justice of the Peace Sullivan. Mr. Sullivan, noting that the man was a husky fellow and knowing the dire need there is in town for laboring men, fined him only $1 with the expectation that with so small a fine he would be willing to go to work. The alternative was ten days in the county jail. No sooner was the penalty imposed than C. M. Brooks, a local contractor, who has been scouring the country all summer for men to work, came forward and offered the man work at $2.50 a day. The offer was declined. Ten days' free board and lodging with nothing to do was more alluring than the chance of earning $25 minus the $1 fine and the man expressed himself as ready to go to jail. There he is now along with several other able bodied fellows resting and eating and sleeping while the county pays the bill.

Light From Meteors.

The trains of light left by meteors are often visible for several seconds after the meteor has vanished. Occasionally they remain visible several minutes and in a few rare cases they have been seen for more than an hour. In the case of those that last a long time they are seen to waver, become deformed like smoke blown by the wind and finally to dissipate.

PLAN CHANGES IN GYMNASIUM WORK

New Y. M. C. A. Physical Director H. R. Lee Arrives and Plunges Into Winter Plans

With the arrival of H. R. Lee, new physical director of the Y. M. C. A., plans are getting under way for the winter's gymnasium work of the association. Big changes in gymnasium methods are under consideration.

and will be put into operation within a week or ten days. The changes will be made mostly in the line of work to be pursued by the gymnasium classes. Mr. Lee succeeds S. A. Boyd, who accepted the physical director's post in Dallas, Texas.

Mr. Lee, who came to La Crosse from Waterloo, Iowa, where he had charge of the association athletics for three years, has an enviable reputation as an organizer and supervisor of athletics. In Waterloo, which is considerably smaller than La Crosse, with a Y. M. C. A. proportionately smaller than the local organization, he was supervising the work of ninety-six athletic teams at the same time during a long period of last year.

He is known as an indefatigable worker with an excellent training in physical education. He is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin and the Janesville high school, as well as the Lake Geneva Training school for Y. M. C. A. athletic directors.

Mr. Lee arrived in the city Saturday and took up his residence at the Y. M. C. A. dormitory. He and A. C. Gran, the general secretary, at once went into conference over the plans for the coming year, and definite announcement of the classes, etc., will be made within a short time.

Very Irritating.

PUBLIC DEBATE

"De facto" President Huerta in his note to President Wilson's personal representative, Governor Lind, says that President Wilson request that he should make a declaration that he would not be a candidate for the presidency of Mexico at the October elections is all unnecessary because the "constitution" of Mexico prohibits an interim president from being selected.

Also Huerta seems to take pleasure in remarking in the same note that this seeming ignorance on the part of the prominent Americans who are seeking to be of assistance to the Mexican people in the adjustment of their domestic trouble is a surprise to him. He declares that he supposed that they would at least know what the Mexican constitution contained before seeking to be of such prominent assistance in the settlement of Mexican affairs.

It occurs to some of us in the northeast corner of the bleacher boards that possibly President Wilson may have thought over the facts and transactions incident to the ascension of this man Huerta to the Mexican throne and may have some doubts about his having placed himself in the position of "de facto" president of Mexico in strict accordance with the provisions of the Mexican constitution or any other constitution. Perhaps President Wilson has some knowledge of the habit that some have of attacking progress by sanctimonious expressions of reverence for the constitution.

Further, it seems possible that President Wilson had read the rules of the Mexican political game and in all probability gave a copy of them to Mr. Lind when he sent him down there to apply for the position of chief umpire. Possibly he told Governor Lind that the rules were quite old and somewhat overlooked by some of the Mexican politicians.

RAISE TUITION AT THE FARM SCHOOL

Since Counties and Not Individuals Must Pay Fee for Outside Students Is Dollar a Week

Taking into consideration the new state law, which requires counties having no agricultural school to pay the tuition of any of their young people who desire to attend agricultural schools in other counties, the county school board yesterday decided to raise tuition fees at the Onalaska agricultural school to one dollar a week. Tuition is paid only by pupils attending from outside counties.

The board decided at its regular meeting in the Onalaska school yesterday, that the county was entitled to the full amount allowed by the state law, inasmuch as the burden will not fall upon the pupil who attends from an outside county, but upon his home county.

Three of the teachers who will handle classes at the farm school this winter are already in Onalaska. H. C. Ferguson, the new professor of animal husbandry, arrived from his home in Lisbon, Iowa, yesterday, and Miss Rachael MacEldowney and Miss Elizabeth Raht, domestic science teachers, are also "on the job."

IMPROVE STATE PARK

M'GREGOR, Wis., Sept. 3.—The last Wisconsin legislature appropriated $8000 for improvements at the newly acquired state park about the mouth of the Wisconsin river. Although the money will not be available until March, a communication from the state board of forestry states that some work in the laying out of trails and roads will be done this fall. Quite extensive improvements will doubtless be made next summer. The place is one of great beauty and interest but inaccessible at present due to the lack of paths and roads.

CONVICTS START WORK ON ROADS

Dressed in Civilian Clothes
They Leave Joliet
to Labor Unguarded

WILL TRY IT THREE MONTHS

Newly Freed Men Like Schoolboys Cram Pockets
When Farmer Offers
Apples

JOLIET, Ill., Sept. 3.—Forty-five convicts, dressed in civilian clothes, boarded an electric car under the state penitentiary walls today and started for Dixon, Ill., where for three months they will be employed on road construction, unguarded and with only their word of honor as assurance that they will not attempt an escape.

T. F. Keegan, who will superintend the road work, and Charles Hardy, who will act as night watchman, were in charge of the men. They left their revolvers and loaded canes in the prison offices this morning. Warden Allen and Deputy Warden Walsh accompanied the "honor prisoners" on the first day of the "outing."

Are Good Behavior Men

The forty-five who are to inaugurate the new Illinois convict road law were chosen from the good behavior men at the prison. They were up before sun rise, dressed in civilian clothes, made inside the prison walls, and carrying the khaki suits they will wear on the roads, marched in a silent line to the car.

"I told them they could talk and joke all they liked," said Warden Allen, "but it's pretty hard for a man to raise a smile when he's been behind the walls for several years. A few days out of doors will cheer them up."

Tents and camp equipment preceded the convicts to Dixon. Camp will be pitched each night wherever the gang of prisoners find themselves.

Get Cigars and Apples

DIXON, Ill., Sept. 3.—The forty-five "honor prisoners" from the state penitentiary at Joliet, arrived here shortly before noon today, donned khaki suits and were driven in auto bus to begin work on the roads this afternoon.

Following breakfast at Aurora, where the party changed cars each of the prisoners was handed a ten cent cigar. A farmer driving a wagon load of apples through the streets of Aurora, drew up beside the car and showered the men with fruit. They crammed their pockets with apples like so many small boys.

ASYLUM INMATE CAN'T BE FOUND

Feeble-minded Man Who Escaped Four Days Ago Is Thought Near Holmen

A four days' search through La Crosse county by Superintendent Oliver Gullickson of the La Crosse County asylum for the insane at West Salem, for William Kersether, age 31, an inmate of the institution, who escaped last Saturday, has proved futile.

Although Superintendent Gullickson returned to West Salem today he is still of the opinion that the insane man is roaming the woods near Holmen. A posse composed of the guards of the asylum searched the woods yesterday afternoon but to no avail. It is thought that hunger will eventually drive the man to seek help, when he can be captured.

Kersether left the asylum Saturday morning without the knowledge of the guards. A half hour later Superintendent Gullickson followed him but lost all track of the man on the bluffs. Residents of Sand Lake Coulee reported seeing him carrying an axe handle and wandering aimlessly, and although the clue was traced down it also proved futile. Superintendent Gullickson spent a part of yesterday in La Crosse, and has asked the aid of the local police and of the police of the surrounding towns in finding the man.

Kersether was taken to the asylum a year ago. His home is in Cleveland, Ohio. He is not harmless but feeble minded. He is 5 feet, 10 inches, tall, wearing a checkered shirt, striped grey trousers and a cheap straw hat. He weighs 180 pounds.

LA CROSSE SHOWS FORMER RESIDENT

Stephen Mueller Who Ran Second Barber Shop in City Surprised by Growth

"I'm from Missouri, you got to show me," said Stephen Mueller, of that state, when he stepped off a train here and cast his eye about La Crosse.

"They showed me, too," said Mr. Mueller to a reporter today. "I was positively dumfounded to see how this city has grown and been cleaned up and beautified since I left it." Mr. Mueller left La Crosse fourteen years ago after a continuous residence here since 1865. In the latter year he opened the second barber shop owned by a white man in La Crosse, Christian H. Kirm, father of Frank Kirm, alone preceded him in the business.

Mr. Mueller's first shop was on Pearl street, where Matt Newburg's store is now located. Later he successively occupied three other locations, two on Pearl and one on Third street, after which, upon selling to W. H. Webb, he joined John Ulrich in the bird and animal business, opening a house on North Third street. There Mr. Mueller was located until his departure from the city in 1899.

Miss Marguerite Armstrong, Washington, D. C.; Miss Harriet Biddle, Torredale, Pa.; Miss Maria Bullitt, Torredale, Pa.; Miss Emily K. Davis, Philadelphia; Albert A. Green, New York; Royal A. Hotchkiss, New Haven; S. Crozier Fox, Elkins Park, Pa.; Harry Iamo, Commossee Camp, Maine; George Koga, New York; H. F. Martin, Bryn Mawr, Pa.; Mrs. H. F. Martin, Dr. James B. Marvin, Louisville, Ky.; Mrs. James E. Marvin; Martha H. Marvin, daughter of Dr. James B. Marvin; David N. McQuillan, Torredale, Pa.; Frank B. Rutter, Scranton, Pa.; Mrs. Frank B. Rutter; Robert Yann, Philadelphia; young woman, giving name of Mary Jane, not positively identified.

Despite the order from Interstate Commerce Commissioner McChord, who is to make an investigation into the wreck, most of the traces of the disaster had been removed today. The partially demolished wooden Pullman Chisholm had been righted and pushed back into the New Haven yards. The torch was applied to the ruins of the cars Kasota and Chancellor, in which most of the victims lost their lives.

As President Wilson passed by the scene of the wreck on his way to Washington during the night, the flickering flames from the old Pullmans, made of the same material now used in the construction of cars for the transportation of cattle, shed a ghastly light upon the ground which only a few hours before was littered with the forms of the dead and dying.

Coroner is Ready

Coroner Mix was scheduled to open his inquest into the wreck today and working with him was Public Utilities Commissioner Elwell. The coroners of this section are experienced in handling such details. A great deal of their time has been given to investigating New Haven wrecks. The most recent verdict, that following the Stamford disaster, exonerated everyone. Coroner Phelan found no place to put the blame.

It became known here today that F. A. Howard, a federal safety appliance inspector, reached the scene of the wreck about 10 o'clock yesterday. He witnessed the removal of bodies; saw the demolished wooden Pullmans as they lay torn into a thousand pieces along the track, and looked upon the human sacrifice to discredited economy, before the blood of the victims was cold.

Howard, it developed, was on his way from Washington to Boston on a mission for the commission. On hearing of the wreck at Wallingford he went immediately to the scene. The interstate commerce commission will begin its investigation into the wreck at the federal building here at 10 a. m. Friday.

Coroner Mix has formally announced that the inquest under his direction will be "private." Newspaper correspondents will not be permitted. President Elliott said that all hearings would be open to the public but the decision was later altered.

To Inspect Engine

This afternoon Belknap, Howard and three other inspectors will go with Vice President Whaley of the New Haven to examine the engine of the Bar Harbor express. This is the train the rear cars of which were demolished. A question has arisen as to the exact position of the engine at the time of the collision. It is stated positively that the Bar Harbor engine stopped on the near side of the block signal, but the investigators want to find out whether the engine went forward a short distance after making the stop and went beyond the signal.

In such an event the rear signals, blocking the on-rushing White Mountain express would have been dropped, indicating a clear track for the train driven by Miller.

NOTED LAWYER DYING

WINDSOR, Vt., Sept. 3.—Maxwell Everts, general counsel of the Southern Pacific railroad, who came to his home here critically ill of intestinal troubles, was reported today near death. He is the son of the late William Everts, once secretary of state.

REMOVE BODY OF BISHOP GRAFTON

Fond du Lac Churchman's Remains Interred Today in New Sarcophagus

FOND DU LAC, Wis., Sept. 3.—Episcopal churchmen from all parts of the United States were here today to attend the services accompanying the removal of the body of Bishop Charles Chapman Grafton from the local cemetery to the new sarcophagus erected in St. Michael's chapel in St. Paul's cathedral here.

Bishop Weller of Fond du Lac was in charge of the ceremonies and the sermon was delivered by Rev. Joseph G. Barry of the Episcopal church of St. Mary the Virgin, New York city.

The tomb in which the body will rest is the gift of Elbridge T. Gerry of New York; is constructed of red and white Italian marble, and when completed will cost $10,000.

EXPERT OPINION ON STEEL CARS' VALUE

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 3.—Predicting that within a few years there will be no wooden cars in service on American railroads, D. C. Eldridge, Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul superintendent, today advocated the replacing of the wooden coaches with steel whenever possible. Speaking of his own road, Mr. Eldridge said:

"About forty per cent of our coaches are wood. These are being replaced as rapidly as possible with steel, but the demand for steel cars is so great that it will be a number of years before the change is entirely made. There is no question but the lives of a number of people have been saved by steel cars in unavoidable accidents that have occurred on the Milwaukee road."

ST. PAUL, Sept. 3.—Had all steel sleeping cars, or those with steel under frames been used by the New York, New Haven & Hartford road on the express trains that were wrecked near New Haven Tuesday morning, when twenty-one persons were killed, the loss of life would have been greatly reduced, in the opinion of St. Paul railroad officials.

The Northern Pacific road, from which Howard Elliott recently resigned as president to become head of the New Haven system, does not have all steel sleeping cars.

"Our road has first-class wooden equipment with steel under frames," said Jule M. Hannaford, president, this morning. "There is a difference of opinion regarding the relative safety of all steel cars and those with steel under-frames, such as we have, but I think our equipment is just as safe as those of all steel construction."

The sleeping cars on the Great Northern road are practically the same as those on the Northern Pacific.

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—"The New York, New Haven & Hartford is being equipped with all steel Pullmans as rapidly as possible," said L. F. Hungerford, general superintendent of the Pullman company here, today.

"When we took charge of the road's sleeping cars January 1 last, there were no steel cars. About one-third of the sleeping car equipment is now steel, and we are placing more cars on the road as fast as they can be built."

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—"If I stick a knife into a man, I am charged with murder; but we let railroad directors use wooden cars and cause great loss of life because steel cars cost too much money and they cannot pay dividends on watered stock."

This statement was made today to the United Press by Vice President Marshall, in discussing the Wallingford, Conn., wreck. He declared the use of wooden cars on the New Haven was unquestionably the cause of the great death toll.

"There is no question but that steel cars are one of the greatest safety devices," said the vice president. That the American public demands the greatest possible safety and is even ready to stand an increase in railroad rates to secure safety, was declared by the vice president.

"But if the railroads don't water their stocks and bonds they can equip their lines with steel cars and safety appliances under the present rates," he asserted. "The trouble with the railroads is that there are too many 'wheels within wheels,' too many corporations within corporations—and the original parent corporation is almost lost."

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 3.—That every state railroad commission and possibly every legislature should take steps if necessary to force railroad to equip with steel cars at the earliest possible moment, was the opinion expressed through the United Press today by Orville F. Berry, chairman of the Illinois railroad and warehouse commission.

He said his commission had considered the matter and that it would take steps again at an early meeting.

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 3.—More cautious and intelligent employees, especially engineers, together with the abolishment of wooden coaches for passenger traffic, were the remedies suggested here today by state and railroad officials for the prevention of disasters similar to the New Haven wreck yesterday.

LIND VISITS SUGAR PLANTATION

Goes Safely 111 Miles Into Interior Despite Gloomy Predictions of the Alarmists

GALVESTON, Texas, Sept. 3.—The second division under General Carter's command at Texas City again was placed on war footing today upon orders received last night from Washington. The troops are ready to embark on transports at a minute's notice.

VERA CRUZ, Sept. 3, via GALVESTON.—John Lind and Rear Admiral Fletcher were expected back here late today from Vista Hermosa, a large sugar plantation 111 miles in the interior. They went there yesterday and none of the mishaps predicted by the alarmists who sought to dissuade the special envoy have occurred.

Lind went to visit an old friend from Minnesota who is in charge of Vista Hermosa, only thirty miles from the largest of the Zapata camp. The last part of the journey, made by horse, led Lind and his companion close to the rebels.

It was the belief here that Lind went away to demonstrate clearly that no negotiations are now going on between the United States and Mexico. So far as is known the envoy has not received a communication from any Mexican official this week.

HELD FOR DEATH OF HIS FAMILY

Former Mayor of Oklahoma Town Alleged Slayer
when Bodies Are Found in Ruins

ARDMORE, Okla., Sept. 3.—The bodies of Mrs. W. A. Borah and her twelve year old daughter were discovered in the ruins of the Borah home at Tishomingo, after its destruction by fire Saturday night. W. A. Borah, husband and father, was arrested pending an investigation of the deaths, as it has been established that the mother and daughter were dead before the fire started. Borah is a former mayor of Tishomingo.

A possible explanation of the alleged murder was found in the declaration today of Miss Ethel Hewey, of Wichita, Kas., that she was engaged to marry Borah. She is the daughter of Deputy County Treasurer at Wichita.

A large number of letters written to Miss Hewey by Borah were turned over to Sheriff Williams by the girl, and she displayed to him her wedding trousseau. She said the marriage had been set for September 15.

Miss Hewey recently resigned a position with a Kansas City firm, and came to Wichita to prepare for the wedding, she told Williams.

Borah, who is 31 years old, was connected with the Baird Real Estate company of Sapulpa. He was prominent in Tishomingo and his wife was a social leader.

W. B. U. REOPENS SCHOOL YEAR HERE

With an unusually large attendance the Wisconsin Business University has reopened after the summer vacation. A noticeable feature of the enrollment this year is the large number of local boys and girls who are taking advantage of the school. Of the total enrolled this year twenty-five are high school graduates.

The school has been entirely redecorated during the past months and many improvements made to maintain its standard as one of the best business colleges in the entire northwest. There has been practically no change in the faculty.

WIFE DESERTER CAUGHT IN MINOT

Sheriff John Weber returned today from Minot, N. D., with Allen Thrall, wanted here on a charge of wife abandonment. Thrall is alleged to have left his wife and six children in La Crosse more than a year ago. It is charged that he has contributed but five dollars to their support since his disappearance. Thrall was brought back on requisition papers issued by Governor McGovern at the request of local authorities.

FORMER SENATOR DEAD

TOPEKA, Kas., Sept. 3.—John Martin, former United States senator from Kansas City, died here today after a long illness. Martin was born in Tennessee in 1833 and had lived in Kansas since 1855. He once refused the democratic nomination for governor, because party leaders declared for resubmission of the prohibition amendment.

WATERSPOUT FATAL TO EIGHT SAILORS

Three Petty Officers and Five of Crew of Battleship Nebraska Die in Hampton Roads

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Sept. 3.—Three petty officers and five men of the crew of the battleship Nebraska were drowned when one of the ship's launches went down in Hampton Roads during a hurricane that swept over this section today. The men were going ashore to Old Point when their launch was struck by a waterspout, according to watchers on the pier. The Nebraska is lying at anchor, off Fort Monroe, but, owing to the fact that the wireless at that station was put out of commission by the storm the names of the eight men could not be obtained. Communication by means of small boats was cut off by the rough seas.

The old dominion steamer Mobjack, bound from Old Point to Mobjack Bay, is reported as having gone down in the storm at the mouth of York river. At this hour the report could not be confirmed, as wires to that section are down. She carried a crew of eight and is said to have had a number of passengers aboard. She is a side-wheeler.

Much damage was done all over this section by the wind, which came out of the northeast with the force of a hurricane accompanied by blinding rains.

START SEMI-FINALS

ROBERT GORDON AND GEORGE VAN AUKEN START FIRST MATCH TODAY—NIEMEYER AND LEES MAY PLAY

Robert D. Gordon, a former holder of the cup and George Van Auker will this afternoon play the first game of the semi-finals for the Colman cup at the golf links of the La Crosse country club. Emil Niemeier, present holder of the trophy and Andrew Lees will possibly play a second game. These four contestants are the only ones left in the field. No games have been played since Monday afternoon. Niemeier is playing a strong game and is thought to have the best chance to take the cup. Gordon and Van Auker are also playing strong. The finals will be played Saturday afternoon.

C. T. SCHWUCHOW CALLED BY DEATH

Carl Theodore Schwuchow died yesterday morning at 11 o'clock at the home of his son, Charles Schwuchow, 514 North Ninth street, after a two years' duration of a complication of diseases.

Mr. Schwuchow was born Feb. 9, 1840, at Pummeren, Germany, coming to this country in 1881, settling soon after in this city, where he entered the lumber business. His wife died ten years ago. He is survived by one brother, William Schwuchow who lives in Germany, and a brother, Herman of Smith's Coulee, and two sons, Chas. and Gust Schwuchow of this city.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon from the residence of his son at 2 o'clock, and at 2:30 from the German Lutheran church. Rev. Julius T. Gamm will officiate. He will be buried at the side of his wife in Oak Grove cemetery.

BRIDE SEES HER HUSBAND KILLED

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sept. 3.—Stephen Lukos, a saloonkeeper, is dead today because he refused to take orders from a couple of hold-up men who entered his place last night. When ordered to throw up his hands, Lukos seized the nearest intruder and grappled with him. The other highwayman, seeing his pal in danger, shot Lukos twice. Mrs. Lukos, bride of five months, was waiting to go home with her husband and fainted when the trouble began.

MULHALL FIGHTING MAD

INVITES FORMER PRESIDENT KIRBY OF N. A. M. TO "COME OUTSIDE" ALLEGING HE MADE FACES AT COLONEL

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Another invitation to "come outside" threw the house lobby investigation into confusion today. Col. Mulhall, lobbyist for the N. A. M., gave the belligerent invitation to John Kirby, Jr., former president of the organization. In a hysterical outburst, Mulhall charged that Kirby "was making faces at him."

"If the gentleman was a gentleman and would meet me outside," he yelled, "I'd pull his nose."

Kirby moved his chair slightly and Mulhall subsided into renewal of testimony regarding Representative Charles E. Littlefield's campaign in Maine.

David Lamar, "the wolf of Wall street," asked the committee to investigate his charges against the railroad lobby, which the senate committee turned down. The house probers took Lamar's request under advisement.

LOCAL PREACHERS TO KEEP PULPITS

Methodist Conference at Superior Makes No Change in La Crosse Pastors

According to a message received here this morning from Rev. T. Stanley Oadams, pastor of the First Methodist church, who is attending the Western Wisconsin Conference of Methodist churches at Superior, there will be no changes in the pastors of the Methodist churches of this city. The two pastors here besides Rev. Oadams are Rev. M. E. Frazer, pastor of the Caledonia Street Methodist church and Rev. J. E. Watson of the West Avenue church.

The only pastorate transfer of importance in the vicinity of this city is in Onalaska, where Rev. Wallace C. Snow, pastor of the Onalaska Methodist church, is being transferred to a church at Necedah. Rev. J. W. Irish, former pastor of the First Methodist church, has been reappointed superintendent of the Ashland district. His headquarters will be at Chippewa Falls.

Rev. Oadams sends word that the meetings of the conference are being made of special interest. Last Sunday Bishop W. Quayle preached in the Cummings Avenue church to a packed audience. Rev. Oadams was called away from the conference to Morris, Ill., to officiate at the funeral of a former parishioner. Rev. Oadams had several offers to preach in pulpits in Duluth next Sunday but had declined. He will be back in his pulpit here next Sunday to officiate at the rally day services at his church.

TROOPS ARREST WOMEN PICKETS

CALUMET, Mich., Sept. 3.—Two women strike pickets were arrested in Red Jacket today by cavalrymen patrolling the copper mining country, following scenes of disorder in the streets. The state troopers rode into a crowd of women who were charged with intimidating non-union miners. The women threw stones and tin cans at the cavalrymen and refused to disperse.

IRATE FATHER KILLS

ELOPERS COME TO PARENT FOR BLESSING AND BRIDEGROOM GROOM AND FRIEND ARE SHOT—FATHER SUICIDES

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—Two men are dead and a third is dying as the result of the elopement of Gilbert Lovetti, a young Greek, with the pretty daughter of Armidio Titerone, proprietor of a Greek ice cream parlor at 2604 Lincoln avenue.

Returning from the honeymoon trip, Lovetti and his young bride entered the ice cream store this afternoon, seeking the parental blessing. Giovanni Bianchi, partner of the girl's father, interceded with Titerone and endeavored to induce him to forgive the elopers.

While Bianchi was arguing Titerone drew a revolver from under the counter and shot Lovetti through the heart. He fired twice at Bianchi, both shots entering his partner's back. Pursued by two policemen, Titerone ran to his home and blew out his brains.

LOCAL ELOPERS WED IN WINONA

WINONA, Minn., Sept. 3.—A few minutes after they walked out of the office of the clerk of the district court with their marriage license early yesterday afternoon, D. E. Vance, the "marrying judge," received a long distance telephone call from an anxious father at La Crosse urging him not to wed Ada Schnell, his daughter, and William Groothos, of Columbia county, Wis. The parent asked that the marriage be not performed on the ground that the bride-to-be was not of age.

Judge Vance refused to marry them, but the couple secured the services of a minister.

WOODEN CARS ARE TABOO IN STATE

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 3.—To rapidly exterminate wooden coaches from trains in Wisconsin, the last session of the legislature enacted a law prohibiting the operation of wooden coaches between steel cars. The law becomes effective January 1, 1914. The railroad commission is given power to extend the time to any single railroad upon application and hearing. The law was passed upon petition of the railway mail clerks, express and baggage men.

The scallion can anchor itself as well as any ship. It never fails to drop its anchor on the approach of rough weather. The scallion, lying in its bed of shoal water, foresees a storm in true sailor fashion and at once puts out a tough and elastic little cable from a point near its hinge. This cable it fastens firmly to the nearest rock. It is then secure in the vilest weather. He who wades through scallion haunted shoals as a storm approaches may see the tiny shellfish mooring themselves on all sides with silent bustle.

Was Stricken Last February

Martin J. Gallagher, a pioneer resident of this city, died at 11 o'clock last night at his home, 1168 Mississippi street. Mr. Gallagher's death was the indirect result of a stroke apoplexy he suffered last February. Since he was stricken he has been gradually failing and growing weaker, and his death was not unexpected. Mr. Gallagher was 73 years old. Funeral arrangements are not yet complete.

WRECK KILLS ONE EIGHTEEN INJURED

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Sept. 3.—An unidentified laborer was killed and eighteen people injured when a Milwaukee freight struck a work train at Hopkins at noon today. The injured were brought to St. Barbara hospital. Several are so badly injured that they may die. The body of the dead man was taken to Cologne, Minn.

GILLIS CASE AGAIN ADJOURNED TODAY

The case against Henry Gillis, whose former wife shot herself in his apartments a few days prior to the date of his intended marriage to another woman, was today adjourned ten days. The charge under which Gillis is being held is a means of holding him pending the outcome of Mrs. Gillis' wound. She is still in the hospital.

ARMY-NAVY GAME WILL TAKE PLACE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—The Army-Navy game will be played at the New York polo grounds this year. A compromise agreement to this end was reached at a conference here today between Secretary of the Navy Daniels, Assistant Secretary of War Breckenridge and representatives of the Athletic Associations of the West Point and Annapolis academies.

WOULD JAIL THE RAILROAD LOOTERS

Senator La Follette Says Men Who Robbed and Ruined New Haven
Should Suffer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—"The first definite thing that should be done by the government in the New Haven wreck," said Senator La Follette today, "is to put in jail the men who robbed and ruined that railroad by means of inside holding companies. They allowed its property to run down until this long succession of tragedies has revealed the rottenness of the whole thing. These lives are sacrificed because wooden cars, cheap and rotten equipment and inefficient service allowed these holding companies more successfully to plunder the road. Monopoly means irresponsible and unsafe management."

"There were several car construction companies that were leeches upon the New Haven system. They drew great profits from loosely drawn contracts, because they were on the inside."

"The track itself is in such bad condition, I was told the other day by Ray Stannard Baker, he pulled spikes from the ties with his fingers. Monopoly is irresponsible when the railroad business is concerned, just as it is elsewhere."

"If there were in the White house today a man willing and determined to use the Sherman anti-trust law to destroy the rottenness which is monopoly, even now, far as is known in this country, it could not fail."

FOURTH TRIAL OF DR. HYDE ON SWOPE MURDER CHARGE IN KANSAS CITY SOON

Dr. and Mrs. B. Clarke Hyde.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 2.—The fourth trial of Dr. B. Clarke Hyde of this city, on a charge of having murdered Col. Thomas Swope nearly four years ago, is to open next week. The case is one of the most interesting ever tried in the courts of Missouri.

Dr. Hyde is now out on bail and enjoys a large medical practice in this city. His wife received $118,000 of the Swope money when the estate was closed up last year.

ASKS SUM FOR RIDE

LITTLE JAUNT ON RAIL ENDING IN MUDDY POND WORTH $100,000 SAYS WOMAN VICTIM

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—Mrs. Minnie Richardson, victim of a band of women vigilantes who rode her on a rail at Volo, Ill., declared today that she not only would press her suit for $100,000 damages against six women alleged to have been in the party, but that she would insist upon an inquiry by the Lake county grand jury.

Mrs. Richardson came to Chicago to live with relatives after a party of Volo women seized her one night, partially disrobed her and after riding her through the main street of the town, threw her into a pond. She declared today that she would never return to "such a gossip town."

WEALTHY CHINESE MURDERED IN BED

Found Slashed and Stabbed by Side of White Wife; Tong Feud Suspected

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—With his head thrown back against the jaws of a hand carved dragon in the headpiece of his bed, Charles Sing, wealthy Chinese restaurant keeper, was found dying today, his throat slashed and blood running from two stab wounds in his chest. His young white wife lay unconscious beside him, her head cut and bruised.

Sing was rushed to a hospital, but died an hour later. His wife has not regained consciousness.

The police theory is that Sing, who owns two down town chop suey restaurants and has an interest in several laundries, was the victim of a tong feud. The murder was reported shortly after daylight by Josie Modelski, a domestic employed in the wealthy Chaniman's home. The girl told the police that she was awakened about 4:30 a. m. by a cry for help. She heard sounds of a struggle, she said, but feared to enter Sing's apartments. She waited until the sounds had ceased and then slipped to the door of Sing's bedroom. A heavy silk curtain had been thrown across the dying man's neck and chest. When the girl withdrew the curtain and saw the knife wounds she ran into the street and faint. Neighbors found her there and called the police.

CLERKS DISCUSS PENSION SYSTEM

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 3.—A pension retirement plan for superannuated members occupied most of today's session of the National Federation of Postoffice Clerks' annual convention here.

Delegates still defended today the resolution adopted yesterday, protesting against one cent letter postage. Express companies wanting to see a deficit in the postoffice department that would prevent further development of the parcel post and mail order houses were chiefly back of the agitation for one cent postage, declared the clerks.

ALFONSO SAVES LIFE OF ASSASSIN

MADRID, Sept. 3.—King Alfonso today commuted to life imprisonment the death sentence passed upon Sanchez Alegre, the assassin who attacked the king on Sunday afternoon three months ago. King Alfonso interceded with Premier Romanones for Alegre's life, but the premier told him he would better commute the sentence himself.

Renovating Delicate Fabrics.

This preparation will not fade colors or injure delicate fabrics. Grate raw potatoes to a fine pulp; add one pint water to one pound potato. Pass this liquor through a fine sieve and cloth. Let it remain in a vessel until the fine white starch settles to the bottom, then pour off the clear liquor, which is to be used for cleaning.

For white silk add a little borax. For dresses and waists dip a sponge in the liquor and apply it until dirt is removed. Rinse in tepid water and iron on wrong side.

Opera and party dresses and white cashmere will clean beautifully by this process.—Los Angeles Times

A Mollified Subject.

Nollekens, the sculptor, was a man of pretty wit and of neat resource in compliment. He had at one time for a sitter a woman of great beauty, but of an extremely nervous and impatient temperament. During her sittings she would constantly change her position, and with each shift of posture her expression changed. At last the sculptor's patience gave way.

"Madam," he cried, "of what avail is your beauty if you will not sit still till I have reflected it in my model?"

The sitter smiled with gratified vanity and was as motionless as a lay figure during the remainder of her sittings.—St. Louis Republic.

Crime and Light.

It may seem strange, says a London paper, that murders could possibly increase the dividends of gas companies, but that happened at the time of the notorious "Jack the Ripper" crimes. It would be no exaggeration to say that the whole east end of London went in fear of death. These ghastly murders were all committed in dark spots, like unlit doorways, and the immediate result was that people used much more gas. The sale of candles and paraffin oil, too, went up amazingly all over the east of London.

A Car Not too Large, Not too Costly, and Splendidly Efficient

The beautiful lines and handsome finish of the Studebaker "25" always get attention the moment they are seen.

You will admire them—so will your friends.

And when you experience the smooth, silent, vibrationless power of this car, we are certain that it will set you to thinking.

The Studebaker "25" is a splendidly efficient car, and incidentally a shining opportunity for you and every other man who wants a high grade car, reasonable to purchase and easy to maintain.

For what more can a man desire than a car, a

Studebaker car, which opens to him all the joys of motoring, with the added assurance that in design, in quality and in sheer thoroughbred performance it has no superior within double its price.

The highest priced cars are by no means the most satisfactory, and thousands of contented owners will tell you that this remarkable Studebaker "25" is a well-nigh perfect type of high standards at reasonable cost.

The sturdy Studebaker "25" will satisfy you through every day of the years and years of service it will give you.

See it! Not some other day, but now!

Studebaker Standards

The Studebaker "25" is as well built, with the same pains-taking attention to details, as every other Studebaker car, no matter what the price.

The design of the Studebaker "25" motor can be compared in excellence only with one or two of the most famous foreign cars.

The position of the pump and magneto on a silent cross shaft in front of the motor has forever answered the question of where they should be placed. Your examination will bear out this contention.

The sides of the bloc-cast cylinders are clean and the enclosed valves quickly accessible.

There are over 225 drop forged parts in the Studebaker "25" and every one of these light, strong forgings is heat-treated in our own huge ovens from three to six times.

Sturdy Driving Qualities

The Studebaker "25" has become widely known as a glutton for work.

It is powerful in that high degree which renders it capable of accomplishing every motoring task you set before it, with a rush which is as easy as it is successful.

It will thread in and out of traffic on high gear without laboring, and across country will take the hills without trouble or hesitation.

Not the least satisfying feature of the "25" is its quiet and full response to the throttle.

Comfort and Convenience

The long, resilient springs, cushion any road-motion and the deep upholstery adds full comfort to the admitted driving power of the car.

The Studebaker Jiffy curtains can be put in place quickly from inside the car.

The throttle and spark levers are where they belong, above the steering wheel.

In finish also, this car is quite up to Studebaker standards. The "25" is in every way a car for long use and complete satisfaction.

FISHERMAN KILLED AT PRAIRIE DU CHIEN

PRAIRIE DU CHIEN, Wis., Sept. 2.—Gus Coorough, a fisherman whose home is in the Fourth ward, was killed Monday night by a C. M. & St. P. freight train. The train ran over the unfortunate man who was seen by the train crew too late to avert the tragedy. A coroner's inquest was held Tuesday forenoon, finding that death was due to accident. Mr. Coorough leaves a wife and family of children.

Observe Labor Day

The celebration of Labor Day in this city commenced Monday morning and lasted through the two "big days" under the auspices of the local aerle of Eagles, until Tuesday evening. The parade Monday morning was witnessed by hundreds of spectators who enjoyed the band music, admired the floats and laughed at the funny performances of the clowns.

The Eagles' float, decorated with the national colors and the emblems of the order, in charge of four young ladies, won first prize. Others that deserve special mention were those of the Prairie du Chien Courier, on which a printing press turned out hand bills which were thrown among the crowd. Reed Brothers, Dan Mackin and the Model Grocery.

The parade ended at the City park where an address of welcome was delivered by Mayor F. H. Poehler, and a speech on the topic of the day by Hon. H. J. Scheibl of Cassville, with Henry Whaley as presiding chairman.

The running race in the afternoon was won by George Sebastian, the hurdle race by Walter Brenner. Two good ball games were played by Calmar, Iowa, and Lone Rock, Wis.

On Monday Calmar won from Lone Rock, 4 to 3; on Tuesday the score was, Calmar 3, Lone Rock 1.

was used as was put on twelve years ago by Dubuque decorators. Services will be held in the newly finished auditorium next Sunday. The annual picnic of the Sunday school will be held tomorrow on the Heights the little summer resort of the hill north of town.

SCALP ITCHED AND BURNED

Scarcely any Hair on Head. Terrible Itching. Also Bothered With Pimples and Blackheads on Face. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured Both Troubles.

Greenwood, Ind. — "First my hair began to fall, then my scalp itched and burned when I became warm. I had pimples on my scalp; my hair was falling out gradually until I had scarcely any hair on my head. I couldn't keep the dandruff off at all. My hair was dry and lifeless and I lost rest at night from the terrible itching sensation. I would pull my hair off and scratch my head any place I happened to be."

"For several years I was bothered with pimples on my face. Some of them were hard red spots, some were full of matter, and many blackheads. I was always picking at them and caused them to be sore. They made my face look so badly I was ashamed to be seen."

"I tried washing my head with Cuticura Soap, dried without rinsing, then put the Cuticura Ointment on and rubbed it into the scalp. I applied the Cuticura Soap and Ointment the same each week until cured. Three months' use of Cuticura Soap and Ointment has made my face as smooth and clean as can be." (Signed) C. M. Hamilton, Sept. 24, 1912.

Cuticura Soap (25c.) and Cuticura Ointment (50c.) are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address postcard "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

NORMAL PLANS ON LECTURE COURSE

Will Repeat This Year the Series of Instructive and Pleasing Entertainments

NOTED TALENT ALREADY SECURED

Famous Musicians from Chicago Orchestra and Noted Speakers Are Engaged

With the opening of the Normal school, many inquiries are being made concerning the plans for the Normal lecture course. It may be stated that such plans have been under progress for several months and are now practically complete. The course that has been laid out is one of the strongest yet presented. It opens on Thursday, October second with a concert to be given by an orchestra of sixteen members selected from the Chicago (formerly the Thomas) orchestra. This ranks as one of the great orchestras of the country and the smaller organization will doubtless sustain the reputation of the larger one.

For lectures, the course includes two of the most noted men in public life—both celebrated as platform speakers. They are Rev. Newell Dwight Hillis of Plymouth church, Brooklyn, successor to Henry Ward Beecher and Lyman Abbot, and Dr. Harvey Wiley, until recently head of the pure food bureau at Washington. Dr. Wiley's reputation as an expert upon this subject need no comment.

The second musical number of the course is a concert by Madame Zalsler of Chicago, who is the most noted pianist in the west.

The fifth number will be a play presented by the "Wisconsin Players," a dramatic organization under the direction of Prof. Thomas Dickinson of the state university. The members of this troupe are more than amateurs, having presented their work upon many occasions in Milwaukee, Madison and others of the larger Wisconsin towns.

Announcement will soon be made concerning the tickets, dates and other arrangements for the course.

VARSITY STUDENT BLEEDS TO DEATH

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 3.—Charles C. Wells, letters and science, '13, Freeport, Ill., prominent during his four years at the university for his activities in journalism and student affairs, died at the general hospital here Monday night after an operation for throat trouble. Following the operation, which was performed late Monday afternoon, Mr. Wells started to bleed and all efforts of his physician to stop the flow of blood were in vain.

Mr. Wells was widely known in university circles. He was a member of the Alpha Tau Omega and Alpha Delta Chi fraternities, being national president of the latter at the time of his death. During his university career he was managing editor of the 1912 Badger, managing editor of the Daily Cardinal in 1912, editor in chief of the Wisconsin Magazine in 1913, and president of the Wisconsin Union. He was also a member of the Edwin Booth Dramatic society and of the Iron Cross Honorary Senior society.

OLD SCHOOLMATES PLAN BIG REUNION

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 3.—School fellows of more than fifty years ago, members of the Milwaukee university and the first public school here, will meet in the red room of the Pfister hotel on the night of Sept. 23 for their twenty-eighth annual reunion.

George W. Ogden, secretary of the informal organization of old time schoolmates, has issued eighty invitations. He has received thirty-one acceptances and three "regrets." In all, more than sixty are expected to attend.

FIND THIEF WITH WEDDING CLOTHES

MARINETTE, Wis., Sept. 3.—After an exciting three-hour chase in automobiles ending in a fight through a cornfield, Sheriff C. A. Budlong and three deputies Tuesday captured Joseph Grof, 27 years old, who is suspected of having committed wholesale robberies through the farming district west of Marinette.

When captured, Grof was wearing the wedding suit of Andrew Mickelson, who is to be married this week.

PLAGUE VICTIM TAKES OWN LIFE

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 3.—Unable to longer bear the torture of tuberculosis, Frank Jackels, aged 29, committed suicide at the county hospital yesterday by drinking four ounces of carbolic acid, which he had poured from the bottle into glass.

He was dead three minutes later. Another tuberculosis patient, John Brown, was lying in a bed in the same room with Jackels. He saw Jackels raise the glass to his mouth, but was too weak to prevent the suicide, but his cries brought a nurse rushing to the room, after which he fainted.

LATEST THING IN LADIES' HOSIERY INTERESTS WOMEN—AND THE MEN ALSO

No, siree! She did not sprain her ankle; she did not even hurt her limb. About the only thing she hurt was papa's pocketbook and feelings.

The point of discussion is the newest Parisian novelty in women's hosiery. They are used for afternoon and evening toilets. The dealers say they are modest because the trimming detracts from the contour of the ankle.

The new stockings lace up the side with a silken cord and tassel. They are white stockings with black silk cords and vice versa. And they cost $7.50 per pair.

The first instalment of the stockings were placed on sale a few days ago. They created quite a sensation among the women, but the men were the most interested.

New York Stocks
NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—The stock market opened low and active.

11 a. m.—Although the market was irregular, the stocks generally offered a good resistance to the bearish pressure and were dull and steady. The traders found a market for all they had to sell.

Noon.—The market sagged into a weak condition, convincing the bulls of the futility of holding up prices when only the speculative interests were aroused.

2 p. m.—The market showed a good undertone and rallied from a slump on the publication of the weekly weather report, which was decidedly unfavorable.

Chicago Grain Review

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—Bullish news from Liverpool today caused an excited rush to buy in all the grain pits that sent prices to new levels for the past ten days.

Corn started with a sharp advance for both months and at noon September futures sold at 75% c, a gain of 1 1/2 c over the closing price last night. December was up 3/4 c at the start and made 1/4 c gain during the forenoon.

September wheat started 3/4 c higher and jumped a cent in the forenoon trading, going to 88 1/2 c. December futures kept pace with September and sold to 91 1/2 c in the forenoon.

Oats started the day with conservative gains but mounted sharply higher with the strength in corn and wheat. September futures showed a

YOU PAY LESS HERE

ATHENA UNDERWEAR

For Women, Misses and Children

AS NECESSARY as the right corset to the woman who would be correctly and comfortably gowned.

Here are some of its exclusive merits.

A patented seat that gives extra room where room is needed most.

A special stay that prevents the garment from stretching over the shoulder.

An elastic cuff that holds the sleeve in place and keeps it from slipping up on the arm.

Trimming put on in an improved way, giving exquisite daintiness that is not lessened by washing.

In all shapes and fabrics at the price you usually pay. Try Athena for the children. Perfect fitting garments for all ages—from two to sixteen years.

WE ARE THE SOLE LA CROSSE AGENTS FOR THIS GARMENT. ALL STYLES AND SIZES, PRICED FROM 49c UP.

Watching The Scoreboard

BY HAL SHERIDAN

The request made Labor day for everyone to put on their coats is withdrawn. President Lynch has overruled the decision of Umpire Brennan and the game forfeited to the Giants goes back to the Phillies. The right of the fans to sit any place they please costless is upheld. White shirts can't be used as an alibi for the batting average of the Giants. The Phillies have now pulled up within eight games of the Giants. Doolin's men gained a full game by beating Brooklyn while the Boston Braves drove Tesreau and Fromme to cover. There is hope of a further gain today as the Phillies take on the Dodgers in a double header.

William Lohrman, a recruit from Albany, and not well enough known to be called Bill, appeared for the Pirates against Cincinnati and won his game. William held the Reds to seven hits. After the first inning but two Cincinnati men reached third.

The Cubs downed St. Louis twice. Jim Vaughn, Yankee castoff, put up the star performance, holding the Cardinals to three hits in the second game.

Shawkey held Washington to four hits, but let up long enough in the seventh for Griffith's crew to put over a victory.

Cleveland failed to take advantage of the slip and lost two games to the White Sox. Hal Chase drove out four hits in four times up in the second game. One was a triple and one a home run.

NEW MINE TOWN IN RUNNING START

CRYSTAL FALLS, Mich., Sept. 3.—Although the town of Alpha, Mich., six miles from Crystal Falls, is only seven weeks old, a contract for a $50,000 school building has just been let and the place is already a model little city. Graded streets, electric lighting system and sewers are being supplied as fast as workmen can do it, and mercantile and residence buildings are going up by the dozen. The town is the center of a wealthy mining district which accounts for its swift growth.

DOG BATTLES BULL SAVES GIRL'S LIFE

ARNEGARD, N. D., Sept. 3.—Three times terribly gored by an infuriated bull, the 15 year old daughter of Alfred Hanson of Hay Buttes owes her life to the bravery of a dog that accompanied her to the pasture. She was walking through the herd of cattle Tuesday when attacked. Twice the dog attacked the bull and diverted the attention of the animal till the girl could crawl away. The bull, however, returned to the attack each time. Finally the bull was so engaged with the dog that the girl was able to crawl over a knoll and hide. She is in a serious condition, but may recover.

Giant Pitcher Allows Enough Runs in First Two Innings to Lose the Game

NATIONAL LEAGUE
Philadelphia 3; Brooklyn 2
BROOKLYN, Sept. 3.—The Dodgers slipped down another notch to sixth place yesterday by losing to the Phillies 3 to 2. Rixey was too steady for Dahlen's men, shutting them out in every inning except one. Rucker lasted five innings, being replaced by Ragon. Score: R H E Philadelphia .000120000—3 10 3 Brooklyn .000200000—2 7 2 Batteries: Rixey and Killifer; Rucker and McCarthy.

Boston 5; New York 2
NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—The Braves knocked Tesreau out of the box in the first two innings yesterday, scoring enough runs to win 5 to 2. The Giants were unable to reach Perdue until the last two innings when they put over their brace of tallies. The score: R H E Boston .230000000—5 6 2 New York .000000011—2 9 1 Batteries: Perdue and Rariden; Tesreau, Fromme, Crandall, McLean and Wilson.

Chicago 5-6; St. Louis 3-1
ST. LOUIS, Sept. 3.—The Cubs took both ends of a double header from the Cardinals yesterday, winning the first game 5 to 3 and the last 6 to 1. Scores: R H E Chicago .000022001—5 9 0 St. Louis .010002000—3 7 2 Batteries: Moore, Lavender and Archer; Perritt and Wingo.
Second game: R H E Chicago .003000003—6 10 2 St. Louis .000000001—1 3 0 Batteries: Vaughn and Bresnahan; Griner and Hildebrand.
Pittsburg 5; Cincinnati 2
Score: R H E Cincinnati .200000000—2 7 1 Pittsburg .00013100x—5 8 1 Batteries: Ames and Kling; Luhrsen and Simon.

AMERICAN LEAGUE
Boston 4; New York 2
BOSTON, Sept. 3.—The Yankees lost their third straight to the Red Sox yesterday, 4 to 2. McHale, the Yankee recruit, pitched in good form. Rehg, a Red Sox recruit, made his entry yesterday and was the feature of the afternoon, getting two hits and assisting in a double steal. Score: R H E New York .010001000—2 9 0 Boston .20200000x—4 10 3 Batteries: McHale and Sweeney; Bedient and Thomas.

Washington 2; Philadelphia 1
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 3.—Washington defeated Philadelphia in a pitchers' battle here yesterday afternoon by the score of 2 to 1. Both Engel and Shawkey pitched great ball, but the former was at his best when men were on bases. Engel walked six men, once passing three men in succession, but the local club could not hit him. Score: R H E Washington .000000200—2 4 1 Philadelphia .001000000—1 4 1 Batteries: Engel and Henry; Shawkey and Schang.

Chicago 3-9; Cleveland 1-3
CLEVELAND, Sept. 3.—The White Sox won a double header off the Naps yesterday. The first score was 3 to 1, and the final 9 to 3. Scores: R H E Chicago .000000030—3 9 0 Cleveland .000000001—1 7 0 Batteries: Scott and Kuhn; Steen, Cullop, Kahler and O'Neill.
Second game: R H E Chicago .03201120—9 14 1 Cleveland .010000002—3 8 3 Batteries: Benz and Schalk; Blanding, Cullop, Kahler and Carisch. (Called darkness.)

Three Big MOONLIGHT EXCURSIONS

Thursday, Saturday, Monday, Sept. 4th, 6th, 8th

Better music, a finer dance floor than any boat plying the Big River. This we state without fear of contradiction. "You have tried to dance on the rest—now try to keep from dancing on the best."
